U.S. Envoy, Hanoi Delegate Confer In Laos On Peace Try

White House Silent On Any Note Passing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said today U. S. Ambassador William H. Sullivan conferred with the North Vietnamese representative to Laos, but no agreement was reached for preliminary peace talks.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Sullivan, ambassador to Laos, met North Vietnamese Charge d'Affairs Nkuyen Chan today at Chan's official residence in Vietiane, the Laotian capital. McClosky declined to disclose details of the meeting or to say if any notes were exchanged.

Other sources, however, said the meeting was held at Chan's request and consisted of an oral presentation by him. They said no official note was involved and the Hanoi official did not give a formal answer to the U. S. notes of April 11 and April 18 suggesting 15 proposed sites for preliminary talks.

The Sullivan-Chan discussion left the deadlock over where to hold initial peace "contacts" as tight as ever, McClosky said.

SITE DISCUSSION

Officials said today that a note delivered to North Vietnam through its embassy in Laos earlier this week went beyond the mere request for some formal diplomatic reply to U.S. proposals of 15 possible sites for the talks.

Meanwhile today a flurry of diplomatic activity involving both American and North Vietnamese envoys centered in Mexico City on an unusual meeting between the Mexican president and a representative from Hanoi.

Foreign Minister Antonio Carrillo Flores said yesterday that Ngo Mao, the North Vietnamese ambassador to Cuba, would meet President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz during the afternoon.

MEXICO TALKS

Carrillo Flores, who spent five hours with Mao yesterday, denied that the contacts had anything to do with arranging preliminary U.S.-Hanoi talks on the Vietnam War.

However, immediately after the Wednesday meeting Carrillo Flores met with U.S. Ambassador Fulton Freeman who was the secretary's office. Freeman and Mao did not meet.

Both Freeman and Carrillo Flores said the back-to-back visits were "coincidental, and had no connection with each other."

Thus far Hanoi has rejected

Fairfax Pair Face Federal Requirement

By STEPHEN COOK

Mr. and Mrs. Darren Guy Erlin of Fairfax, whom police suspect may have been dealing in marijuana, suffered a financial setback yesterday.

The Internal Revenue Service attached their property and bank account to the tune of $544,017.14. The IRS claims the young couple owes that amount in marijuana taxes.

Federal law requires that persons dealing with the weed pay a $50 tax and sign a declaration that they intend to sell, import or transport marijuana.

DOLLAR A POUND

If they do this, they are required to pay $1 for every pound of pot involved in their transactions. If they do not, there is a stiff assessment — $100 an ounce.

Federal, State and Marin narcotics agents raided the Erlin home at 38 Redwood Road for the first time March 23 and said they found 300 pounds of brick marijuana there.

At the rate of $100 an ounce, this alone would cost the couple $480,000.

Narcotics agents served Erlin with a copy of the federal lien in Marin Municipal Court, where he was appearing yesterday after a second raid on his house Tuesday and his arrest on suspicion of possessing marijuana and possessing LSD for sale.

4,000 PILLS

The district attorney, following the Tuesday night raid, charged him only with possessing marijuana, pending the results of chemical analysis being made of 4,000 pills allegedly found in his house.

Erlin was released yesterday on $1,000 bail. His companions in this arrest, all released on their own recognizance, were Blaine Curtis Rutherford, 20, of no fixed address; Brian arl Tilley, 22, of Hawaii; John Lawrence Yenches, 24, of Berkeley, and Amy Ann Barrett, 20, of San Francisco.

As a result of the March 23 raid, Erlin has been charged with possessing marijuana and heroin for sale. Eloise Bowen Erlin, his wife, and Gilbert Rance Dart, 24, of San Diego, and Brian Earl Tilley, 25, of El Monte, were charged with possessing pot and possessing it for sale.

All face a preliminary hearing on the charges June 6 in Marin Municipal Court.

'CAN'T FUNCTION'

Carl Shapiro, attorney for the Erlins, said the effect of the tax liens on his clients will be disastrous.

"They can't open a bank account, they can't own a car, they just can't function," he said.

Not even bankruptcy will clear the debt to the IRS, he said, at least not until after a certain number of years.

The lien has already brought financial woes to the Erlins. When agents raided the house March 23, they found $5,400 in an attache case, which Shapiro said was later turned over to the IRS.

When they raided the house Tuesday night, armed with a San Mateo County warrant for Erlin charging possession of LSD, they found $230 which was mailed off to the federal government.

Shapiro said he will begin a constitutional challenge of the marijuana tax law in Marin Superior Court May 1.

Big Drive To Clog Red Route

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese troops have launched the first major allied offensive of the war against North Vietnamese forces in the heavily defended A Shau Valley, the Communists' main infiltration route into the South, government spokesmen said today.

The offensive was preceded by days of record bombing by B52 bombers flying as many as 10 missions a day against hard surfaced roads built by the Communists to bring in men, guns, ammunition and reportedly tanks. So far the Communists were shying from battle.

FEW TRUCKS

The 350 South Vietnamese paratroopers spearheading the push into the 25 by 5 mile valley —running from the Laos border east to within 15 miles of the coastal city of Hue—have found in a week only 10 North Vietnamese trucks and 330 pounds of TNT which they seized and destroyed yesterday, the spokesmen said.

In other developments, U.S. spokesmen said that last week 287 American servicemen were killed in combat, 1,458 wounded and none reported missing. They said the South Vietnamese suffered 380 men killed and the Communists a total of 1,899.

LOWEST RATIO

It was the lowest ratio of Communists killed compared to Allied soldiers killed in a week this year. Last week's "kill ratio"—a military yardstick for judging the tide of war —was slightly more than two Communists killed for every slain Allied serviceman. The year's high was 20 to 1 during the Communists' Tet offensive in February.

In the air, U.S. jets flew 116 bombing missions yesterday against North Vietnam's southern panhandle supply lines, with the Air Force's F111A swingwing jets remaining grounded for the second day in a row after a third plane loss.

In the Saigon area, U.S. infantrymen killed 33 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in a four-hour battle yesterday 30 miles

Ramstad Claims Lack Of Support

Dr. William K. Ramstad today disclosed that his resignation yesterday as superintendent of the Marin Junior College District was the result of failure of the district trustees to give him continuing pledged support. (For another College of Marin story see page 25)

In his letter of resignation, which he read to newsmen, Ramstad said, "A superintendent must be supported by the board of trustees. At the conclusion of the personnel hearing on Thursday, April 11, I was assured of this support. It is obvious that this is no longer the case."

Ramstad made no comment today, nor in his letter, on the resignations that preceded his, those of trustees Elizabeth M. Deedy and Theodore Wellman, considered his staunchest supporters on the board. Both had backed him at the April 4 board meeting in the matters that precipitated the faculty-administration crisis which ultimately led to his resignation.

At the April 4 meeting trustees at his request created the post of president of the Kentfield campus, appointed Dr. Louis H. Herkenhoff to that presidency and elevated Ramstad to the post of superintendent of the district.

Faculty criticism of this action followed and a closed meeting was held April 11 by the trustees and Ramstad for discussion of these complaints.

Following the meeting, the board said Ramstad had "made errors of judgment of considerable magnitude," but added its opinion that he "is capable of making valuable contributions to the expansion and improvement of the district."

Ramstad's resignation is to be taken up by the board at its

WHAT HAS FOUR LEGS, BARKS AND SQUEALS?

DETROIT (AP) — Police investigating a clothing store burglary yesterday were told the burglar had fled, leaving his dog behind.

They told the animal, "Go home" and followed him to a dwelling where they allegedly found the dog's owner, J. C. Ealey Jr., with some of the loot.

Ealey was booked on a breaking and entering charge.

Desegregation Suit —First In The North

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department today filed its first school desegregation suit in the North, charging a Cook County, Ill. school district with discriminating in faculty and staff assignments.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark charged in papers filed in U.S. District Court in Chicago that School District 151 of Cook County had assigned faculty and staff members on a racially segregate dbasis. He said that with few exceptions they have been assigned to schools attended solely or predominantly by members of their own race.

Numerous court suits to halt school segregation have been filed in the South, affecting both faculty and students, but today's suit is the first to apply to a Northern school.

The school district, in a suburban Chicago area, covers most of South Holland Ill., all of the village of Phoenix and part of Harvey. There are six elementary schools in the district—four virtually all white and two almost all Negro.

Clark said he had received a written complaint from a parent of Negro children attending school in the district, complaining that they were being deprived of equal protection of the laws.

School officials have been notified of the complaint but have failed to take adequate steps to assure nondiscriminatory faculty assignments for the 1968-69 school year, the government said.

The government asked for a court injunction to stop school district officials from discriminating on the basis of race, and ordering them to adopt and implement a plan of desegregation.

Mexico Nabs King Case Suspect, Then Frees Him With Apology

HERMOSILLO, Mexico (UPI) —A bearded American tourist from Baltimore, Md., arrested and questioned by Mexican police in their hunt for a suspect in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., was released today with apologies by state authorities.

Daniel D. Kennedy, 42, had been arrested yesterday in a small cafe in Caborca, 80 miles southwest of Nogales, Ariz., and questioned for 12 hours before being brought in handcuffs to this Sonora state capital.

After a check authorities said there was no resemblance between Kennedy and the suspect, James Earl Ray.

State police turned him loose with apologies less than two hours after his arrival in Hermosillo. Kennedy left state police headquarters saying he wanted to continue his trip to Guaymas, a small fishing and resort town on the Pacific coast about 80 miles south of Hermosillo.

American Vice Consul Arnold Denys in Hermosillo said Kennedy has been "completely eliminated" as a suspect through a thorough check by Hermosillo "judicial police" of his background, circumstances, facial features and fingerprints."

Denys said Kennedy was "traveling on his own, very nicely trying to learn about the Mexican people, when he was picked up because a hotel manager thought he matched the description of the suspect."

Denys said Kennedy was "very upset" and insisted on being returned to Caborca, where he was picked up, and where he had a $5 a day hotel room.

Denys said he felt the request justified and state police had returned Kennedy to Caborca.

Hotel manager Carlos Valencia Beltran in Caborca told UPI he had told police his guest "resembled" pictures of Ray, wanted by the FBI in connection with King's assassination.

In Baltimore, when notified of her son's arrest, Kennedy's 68-year-old mother, Pearl, said "it would take a blind man to say that he resembled the man the FBI is looking for."

She said her son had been wounded and awarded the Purple Heart in combat in Germany in World War II, and that he had left Baltimore March 24. She said he received a monthly veteran's compensation check from the government.

Assembly Passes Child Abuse Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Final legislative approval was given today to legislation setting up a statewide program aiming to protect children from parental neglect and abuse.

Assembly approval of Senate amendments sent the bill to the governor's desk.

At present, not all counties are required to have a special program of protecting and detecting child abuse. The bill would require such a plan in all 58 counties, operating through the social welfare system.

Moderate Quake Felt In Marin

A moderate earthquake, believed to have its center somewhere in northern Marin, was felt throughout the county, as far north as Santa Rosa and in San Francisco to the south at 11:50 a.m. today.

Stephen Brugg, College of Marin geology instructor, said the college's seismograph was out of order but that he felt the walls move and the floor shake.

The Earthquake Mechanism Lab in San Francisco, which assigned a magnitude of 4.5 on the Richter scale to the temblor, said its epicenter appeared to be about 25 miles north of San Francisco.

It appeared to be most strongly felt in Santa Rosa, where some damage was reported by Associated Press.

Dry Temperatures Bring Fire Danger

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Fire danger already is upon California because of a lack of moisture and warm spring temperatures, state officials said today.

"The fire season is a month and a half early," said Robert D. Calkins, deputy state director of conservation.

The state already has imposed its normal summer fire regulations in Northern California. Permits are required for all burning, blasting and welding in forest areas.

Truax Ordered To Stand Trial

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — Thomas Nelson Truax, 28, charged with embezzlement of $510,000 from the Association of Bay Area Governments in Berkeley, waived extradition yesterday and was ordered returned to San Francisco for trial.

U.S. District Judge Ted Cabot signed the order and Truax, a former executive officer of ABAG, was returned to his jail cell in West Palm Beach to await a plane flight back to California.

San Rafael Man Struck By Car

An 83-year-old San Rafael man received minor injuries when he was hit by a car while crossing Fourth Street at B Street at 3:30 p.m. yesterday, San Rafael police reported today.

Abraham S. Lang of 1000 C Street was treated for a bruised back at Marin General Hospital.

Police said Lang was apparently crossing Fourth Street in the pedestrian crosswalk when he was hit by a car driven by Robert William Gruhn, 18, of 35 Van Tassel Court, San Anselmo, who was turning right onto Fourth Street from B Street.

Gaullists Win New Victory In Assembly

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle today won a close parliamentary victory that virtually eliminated prospects of a crisis this year over his government's plans to put commercials on French television.

Led by Premier Georges Pompidou, Gaullists in the National Assembly defeated by eight votes a leftist-sponsored censure motion that sought to bring down the government.

The censure attempt,attacking the government's information policies, got only 236 votes in the 486-member assembly. A clear majority of 244 was needed to topple Pompidou's cabinet.

The vote not only insured that the government will go ahead with its controversial plan to put advertising on the state-operated television network, but seemed to assure that the shaky Gaullist coalition will survive repeated assaults from united leftists and Communist deputies.

The eight-vote margin of survival was more than some politicians had expected. On previous tests last year, the Gaullist margin had dipped as low as six votes.

Africa Minister Has Deep Regret

CAPETOWN, South Africa (AP) — Prime Minister B. J. Vorster expressed deep regret last night that South Africa's athletes who had looked forward to competing in the Mexico City Olympics would no longer have the chance of participating.

State College Trustees Seek Harmony

CHICO (AP) — A plan for an "ombudsman" to handle potential campus unrest at each California state college, and proposals to serve more Negro and other minority students, were before the college trustees today.

A trustees' committee voted yesterday to ask the Legislature and Gov. Ronald Reagan for $317,700 to pay for the ombudsman plan next year.

The plan, approved by the trustee's finance committee, was developed in response to student unrest last year at San Jose State and San Francisco State.

Grand Jury Charges Panthers In Shootout

OAKLAND (AP)—Eight members of the militant Negro Black Panther party have been charged with attempted murder and assault with a deadly weapon in a shootout with Oakland police last April 6.

The Alameda County Grand Jury, which returned the indictments late yesterday, also found that the Oakland police acted within the law in shooting to death the Panthers' treasurer, Bobby Hutton, 17.

DISOBEYED

In a prepared statement, the grand jury said Hutton "did not heed commands to halt" and died in a volley of shots from police officers. The statement said the jury found Hutton was "fully clothed," a reference to claims by some Panthers that Hutton had emerged naked from a besieged house with his hands in the air when he was shot.

Charles Garry, the Panthers' attorney, told newsmen last night some witnesses have said Hutton was stripped when he came out to surrender while others have said he wasn't.

"The unequivocal fact," said Garry, "is that he did exactly as the police told him to do and then was shot down like a dog."

The indictments moved the case from municipal court to Alameda County Superior Court, whether the Panthers face arraignment before Judge Redmond C. Staats.

Each was charged with two counts of attempted murder and assault with a deadly weapon. Eldridge Cleaver, the party's minister of information, was charged with an extra count against a specific officer, John Schlim. Cleaver, author of a recent book, "Soul on Ice," was held on $63,000 bail.

BAIL FOR FIVE

Five others—Charles Bursey, Terry Cotton, David Hilliard, Donnell Lankford and Wendell Wade — were held in lieu of $40,000 bail each.

One Panther, Warren Wells, made bail of $40,000. The eighth, a juvenile, John L. Scott, was held for juvenile authorities.

San Anselmo Town Meeting Slated May 11

The third annual San Anselmo Town Meeting will be held May 11 at Sir Francis Drake High School's little theater, chairman Serjit Singh announced today.

The meeting will last from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m., with a dinner-dance scheduled for 7:00 to midnight at Alexander Hall in the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

"The town meeting is a unique opportunity for interested citizens to study and discuss the problems that face San Anselmo," said Singh. "Most important, it gives them a chance to make their views on issues known to elected officials."

GOOD RESULTS

He pointed out that previous meetings have resulted in improvements, "such as the creation of a design review board."

This year there will be no registration fee, and Dr. Singh noted that this was expected to increase attendance over the 300 who were present last year.

Keynote speaker this year will again be William Sidens, giving his slide presentation entitled "A Visitor Returns To San Anselmo." After this, the participants will divide into smaller panel groups covering these subjects; traffic and streets, chairman Valmar Schaaf, civil engineer; downtown, Mozart Kaufman, owner Kaufman's Department Store; city government and taxes, Philip Heinecke, attorney; parks and recreation, David Faw, real estate man; schools, Mary Olive; and civic pride and beautification, Charles Monte, owner Monte and Banfield Chapel of the Hills.

TOPIC SELECTION

The topics were selected on the basis of thousands of questionaries distributed over the past two years, as well as the experience of previous meetings.

Reservations will be required for the civic dinner-dance, and may be made with Mrs. Igor Lobanov, 11 Sturdivant Avenue.

U.S. Suffers Deficit In Exporting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States incurred its first trade deficit since 1963 during March, the Commerce Department reported today.

The report blamed strikes, threatened strikes and record imports for the development.

U.S. exports fell 11.5 per cent, from a seasonal rate of $2.7 billion in February to $2.5 billion during March, according to the report made public by the Census Bureau.

The level of goods imported rose by less than half of 1 per cent during March to $2,612,400,000 compared to $2,601,900,000 for February. The March total, however, was the second highest on record, exceeded only by a high of $2,615,400,000 for January.

Department economists blamed the 11-day New York longshoreman's strike for reducing U.S. exports. They also cited the threat of a nationwide steel strike this summer as causing increased imports of steel and metals used in steel production. Large imports of copper also reflected orders from U.S. manufacturers during the copper industry strike which lasted into March.

Dr. Churchill's Case Continued

The case of Dr. Donald Churchill of Sausalito, charged with illegally prescribing narcotics and falsifying medical records, was continued Tuesday until May 8 in San Francisco Superior Court yesterday.

A hearing on a motion to supress evidence in the case is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. in Department 22 of the San Francisco Hall of Justice.

Tornado Stricken Kentucky, Ohio Seeking Federal Aid

FALMOUTH, Ky. (UPI) — Tornado tossed communities in the Ohio River valley today looked for federal relief aid.

The twisters ravaged a 125-mile stretch of Kentucky and Ohio Tuesday night, killing 13 persons and leaving $5.5 million in destruction. Officials feared the death toll would rise as they combed rubble-filled basements.

Nearly 200 persons were injured when the tornadoes swirled out of the southwest, uprooting barns, houses and trees. Hundreds were left homeless.

Govs. Louie B. Nunn of Kentucky and James A. Rhodes of Ohio asked Washington to declare the hart hit Falmouth region and sections of Clermont and Scioto counties in Ohio disaster areas.

Damage was estimated at $3 million in Kentucky and $2.5 million in Ohio.

Nunn surveyed Falmouth, a farm community of 2,500 persons in northern Kentucky where four persons were killed and 91 injured. He said at least 75 homes suffered damages to the extent of $15,000 each.

Authorities imposed a dusk-to-dawn curfew on all but emergency work crews in Wheelersburg, Ohio, where six persons died and 43 were injured. Eighteen homes in Wheelersburg's Ridgewood Court section, valued between $19,000 and $30,000 each, were either destroyed or heavily damaged.

Wheelersburg's elementary school was closed until Monday and the town reported only limited electrical service.

Falmouth Mayor Max Goldberg said about one-fourth of the town's population was left homeless and the rest was without utilities for 24 hours after the tornadoes passed.

$5,000 Violin Is Recovered

BERKELEY (AP)—A $5,000 violin stolen from the music department of the University of California at Berkeley has been recovered after two weeks.

An Oakland music dealer said, after trading a 1965 clarinet for the 1811 Paris-made violin, he discovered the instrument was hot.

He turned it over to police who traced it back to an 18-year-old nonstudent who said he bought it for $35 near the campus. He was not charged.

Committee Seeks Study Of Suicides

The security committee of the Golden Gate Bridge District voted today to recommend the full board study methods of deterring suicides from the bridge.

Director Dan DelCarlo of San Francisco objected that the action would mean that suicides "would splash all over downtown if they couldn't jump from the bridge."

The committee heard testimony from Dr. Arthur Carfoni, director of the San Francisco mental health services, who said more than one-half of suicides are "impulse suicides."

These people, he said, do not try to commit suicide a second time if prevented by some barrier the first time.

The study was also opposed by Director Lowell Eddington of Napa, who complained bitterly that the bridge was merely a victim of "an advertising program by the news media who keep a box score on the number of suicides."

the American proposals only in propaganda broadcasts and not through diplomatic channels.

The new U.S. note, according to these officials, suggested a "mechanism" for breaking the two-week Hanoi-Washington deadlock. It would involve the use of third party services in arriving at a site agreeable to both adversaries.

There was immediate speculation that such a "mechanism" might have some connection with United Nations Secretary General Thant's repeated suggestions concerning Paris.

Yesterday Thant said he thought either Warsaw or Paris would be a good place for the initial Hanoi-Washington "contacts." Earlier, he had mentioned Geneva and Paris.

Was Discarded Meatball Poison?

A 2-year-old boy found a meatball which may have been poisoned for dogs on a front lawn at 38 Berens Drive, Kentfield, Wednesday, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Several dogs, suspected victims of a poisoner, have died in the area recently, deputies said.

Gloria Russo said the meatball, found in her front yard, was immediately thrown away and could not be analyzed.

'No Vacancy' Sign Taken At Apartments

A light fixture globe and a "no vacancy" sign were stolen from a planting area in front of apartments at 123 Canal Street, San Rafael, sometime between 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. yesterday, San Rafael police reported today.

Maxine Zigmond, apartment manager told police that it was the third time a globe had been stolen from the fixture and the second time the sign had been stolen. Loss was estimated at $19.

The dogwood's name derives from an old European practice of boiling the bark to produce a strong potion used to treat dogs suffering from mange.

Human Barricades Go Up To Block Columbia Classes

NEW YORK (AP) — Student demonstrators pushed their tumultuous protest at Columbia University into a third day today, demanding fellow students boycott classes and blocking some with human barricades at three buildings.

Tensions rose as opponents of the protest sought to attend classes and confronted demonstrators blocking entrances to the classroom buildings. But the rest of the campus remained relatively calm as morning classes began.

The university had canceled evening classes yesterday and virtually sealed off its campus despite the earlier release of acting dean and two other administrators from a Hamilton Hall office where they had been held hostage for 24 hours.

Classes were resumed today but demonstrators blocking Hamilton Hall, the main classroom building, and the architecture and graduate classroom buildings effectively halted attendance at midmorning.

About 50 students remained overnight in the ransacked office of the university president, Dr. Grayson Kirk, in Low Memorial Library. Some 200 Negroes occupied Hamilton Hall and proclaimed it "Malcolm X University."

In a statement to newsmen, the university said "every effort has been made to avoid force." Officials however took the precaution yesterday of asking city police to enter Columbia's grounds.

The disorder had its origin in student demands that the university not expand into a Harlem park and that it end its association with a defense agency.

Registrar Charles P. Hurd said about 2,500 of the estimated 10,000 day students were out of class.

Today Viet Cong waiting on the Saigon River channel from the sea to the capital fired four rocket grenades into the Tulane Victory, a 490-foot U.S. transport moving 60 miles south of the capital. Military spokesmen said the ship suffered little damage and no one was hurt.

FAIRFAX

ordered the Fairfax police, county drug agents and all persons claiming an interest in the confiscated $5,400 to appear and show why it should not be returned to Shapiro.

The lawyer claims the Erlins consigned the money to him before the IRS brought its lien. If Judge Wilson does not order the money returned, Shapiro said, he will take the case into the federal courts.

Shapiro said he has handled one other case in which the government taxed his client for possessing marijuana.

He challenged the law in federal court in San Francisco on the same grounds for which the U.S. Supreme Court ruled the gambling tax unconstitutional — it requires a person to incriminate himself.

The district judge rejected his challenge, Shapiro said, but his client was later acquitted and the IRS dropped its lien.

Federal law states that a person acquitted on a marijuana charge can still be taxed for the marijuana, if the case is provable in civil court.

The tax is for transfer of marijuana, but the law states that the fact of possession is enough to prove that there was a transfer.

The tax applies to persons who grow marijuana in the United States, as well as those who buy and sell it.

Youth Pushes Old Persons; Three Booked

Three youths were arrested on narcotics charges yesterday after one of them began harrassing the residents of the Novato Manor Convalescent Home at 655 Canyon Road, Novato.

Jack Kinney, owner of the home, said a youth began pushing some of his elderly residents. When asked to stop, he told police, the young man staggered into the street, bumped against parked cars and made his way to a house at 649 Canyon Road.

Officers said they found three men and some white powder they suspect is methedrine in the house.

Carl Phillip Umland, 20, of 1401 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was booked for suspected possession of a dangerous drug and on a Superior Court warrant charging him with writing bad checks. His bail was $5,500.

Michael Kalpin Carlson, 18, of 109 Orange Street, San Rafael, was jailed for suspicion of being under the influence of narcotics and possession of narcotics paraphernalia. His bail was set at $2,500.

Ronald Berg Goodrich, 19, of 429 Elm Avenue, Larkspur, who allegedly shoved the residents of the home, was jailed for suspicion of being under the influence of narcotics, with bail set at $625.

All were to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Crash Hurts Aged Novatan

A 75-year-old Novato man was hospitalized yesterday when his westbound car on Atherton Avenue collided with a northbound one at the Highway 101 intersection at 11:30 a.m., according to the California Highway Patrol.

Ernest M. Matthiesen of 64 Manzanita Avenue was reported in good condition today at Novato General Hospital, despite deep cuts on his scalp and right ankle and multiple cuts on his hands and arms.

The other car was driven by Genora Kirkland, 44, of Oakland, patrolmen reported.

Preliminary Hearing Set In Marijuana

Stephen Layne McReynolds, 21, and Daniel John McDowell, 19, both of San Rafael, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to charges they possessed marijuana at a San Rafael drive-in restaurant April 8.

Preliminary hearing on the charge was scheduled for May 27.

Talks Off In Phone Walkout

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Union officials today suspended serious discussions to end the 42-state telephone strike until a company bid for a federal court injunction against picketers in Alabama is withdrawn.

A ruling is expected tomorrow on the injunction move by the Southern Bell Telephone Co. Involved were the arrests of 25 members of the striking Communications Workers union who picketed in definance of state court orders in both Alabama and Kentucky.

The Kentucky action already has been overturned, but top union officials said that talks with the Bell System and Western Electric Co. would remain at a standstill until the Alabama situation was settled.

As the strike entered its second week, union officials hinted there were encouraging backstage developments toward a settlement.

President Joseph A. Beirne of the striking Communications Workers of America said yesterday negotiators had agreed in informal talks to work for a new three-year contract rather than bargain for higher wages under the current one.

"Things are looking up," Beirne said.

Some 200,000 CWA members remained off their jobs at installations of the Bell Telephone System and of Western Electric Co., both affiliates of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., in 42 states.

More than 13,000 employees of the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania meanwhile walked off their jobs early today in a dispute over salary increases in a contract reopening clause.

Union leaders said the strike was called at 12:01 a.m. after the company failed to respond to a union proposal made Tuesday. The union demanded a 14.2 per cent wage increase, double what the company had offered.

meeting at 8 p.m. next Thursday.

Ramstad, who read his letter of resignation today without further comment, said in the letter it would be effective on a date agreeable to both himself and the trustees and that he wished to make the "necessary transition" as effective as possible.

Samuel Schwartz, president of the academic senate which has steadfastly sought Ramstad's removal, said today, "the resignation of (Dr. Ramstad) can be viewed only as clearing the way for the college to positively work once again for quality education."

He said further academic senate comment probably will be made at the Thursday meeting.

Paul Tuttle, president of the associated students, said today of the resignation, "We're sorry this whole situation has arisen. The whole thing could have been avoided at the beginning by better communication and understanding. But under the circumstances, the only thing that could have happened was his resignation."

Tuttle said the students regret Mrs. Deedy's resignation "because she's done so much for the college and the students of Marin over the past 10 years. We're sorry to see her go."

Suspected Laundry Burglar In Court

Ronald Lee Price, 21, of San Rafael, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge that he burgled the Lafargue French Laundry at 1110 Third Street, San Rafael, Tuesday.

Price, who was to return to court today, was allegedly found hiding in the laundry by a police officer making a routine check of the building.

Four Youths Suspected Of Possession

Investigation of a faulty tail light on a station wagon led to the arrest today by Belvedere police of four youths on suspicion of possession of marijuana and contributing o the delinquency of a 17-year-old Belvedere boy.

The 17-year-old was booked into juvenile hall for investigation of possessing marijuana and violating the 11 p.m. curfew.

The driver, Jimmie L. Clemons, 18 of 19 Locust Avenue, Larkspur, was also booked at the county jail for investigation of carrying concealed weapons and interfering with the officer by resisting a search.

Officer Walter M. Potter on patrol at 1:55 a.m. at San Rafael Avenue and West Shore Road, reported he stopped a station wagon and detected the aroma of marijuana in the vehicle.

He asked the occupants to get out and, assisted by sheriff's deputies Richard A. Keaton and Ronald C. Spurrell from Tiburon, found in the wagon two partially smoked cigarettes that appeared to be marijuana, several butts and two unsheathed knives, he said.

Paul R. Keeler, 20 of 746 Robin Drive, Corte Madera; William P. Preston, 20 of 21 Stetson Road, Kentfield, and Regan L. Guerin, 19 of 41 Diablo Road, Kentfield, were held in jail with Clemons in lieu of $625 bail each and were to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Calorie counters should switch to skim milk if they're like the average. Nutrition specialists say the switch cuts about 40 per cent off their calories.

Soviets Launch Two Sputniks In Two Orbits

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union announced today it had launched two unmanned sputniks into widely varying orbits of the earth.

There was no immediate indication why the launchings of both sputniks—Cosmos 217 and Cosmos 218—were announced at the same time. The Soviets seldom announce simultaneously the launching of two different sputniks into different orbits on different days.

The event, however, raised suspicions the two satellites were originally sent up for a coordinated experiment which failed.

(West Germany's Bochum space observatory said intercepted radio signals indicated that Cosmos 218 is a space bus, a supply vehicle intended to shuttle between an orbiting space station and the earth. It said the other is a steerable space vehicle and that they are "either the prelude or the opening phase" of a manned spectacular.)

Cosmos 217 was launched yesterday and Cosmos 218 today. Tass, the Soviet news agency, said both carried "scientific equipment for research in outer space" but gave no specific details on their missions.

Cosmos 217 went into an orbit taking it from 245 to 323 miles from the earth at an angle to the equator of 62.2 degrees. Cosmos 218 was orbiting at altitudes of 89 to 130 miles at an angle of 50 degrees.

It was noted Cosmos 218 was in an orbit often reserved for either spies-in-the-sky and manned space shots.

Closed Probe Of Planner's Resignation

The Fairfax City Council will hold a closed session Monday evening to consider the problem of Planning Commission Chairman Leo Cronin, who delivered an angry verbal resignation to the council on April 8.

Mayor Robert R. Souza, who called the closed door session, said it was done on Cronin's request that his resignation be reconsidered as "a personnel matter."

Cronin quit after declaring himself disatisffied with planning decisions made by the council at its April 8 meeting.

Souza noted that the Ralph M. Brown Act permits closed meetings to hear charges against or to consider appointing of firing an official such as a planning commissioner.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Fairfax Women's Club. It will be followed by the regular council meeting at 8 p.m. The agenda includes presentation of a five-year capital improvements program by the county planning staff.

Lindsay, Kerner Differ On New Riot Study

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The national riot commission continued to be the center of controversy today, this time over whether it should meet again to "refocus" public attention on its sweeping ecommendations.

Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, the Republican vice chairman of the panel, told newsmen here yesterday that because the recommendations had been ignored by Congress the commission would meet again.

He said he had been in contact with Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, the Democratic chairman of the commission, and "it's now a question of when to call another session."

But Kerner, who will become a federal judge when he completes his term as governor next January, issued a statement at Springfield, Ill., denying that he had any plans to call the commission together again.

"In response to lingering inquiries regarding the future of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders," the governor said, "I reiterate that the commission has fulfilled its mission as outlined by the President and no further meetings are being contemplated on the part of the chairman."

The exchange marked the second time this month that Lindsay has called for further meetings of the commission. On April 10 he indicated that such meetings were imminent; but Kerner said then any meeting would be two or three weeks off.

Originally, the blue ribbon commission had planned to disband after it issued its report last March calling for a minimum income for every family in place of welfare programs and a massive effort by government to provide better housing, schooling, and jobs for the urban poor.

In backing Lindsay's call for action, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said he hoped President Johnson would revive his plan to address a joint meeting of Congress on the nation's racial difficulties.

The day after Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was assassinated, Johnson announced he would address Congress. But after passage of the "open housing" civil rights bill he dropped the idea.

Should The Next Saturn 5 Be Manned Or Unmanned?

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The immediate future of the nation's men-to-the-moon launch timetable rests today in the hands of space agency administrator James E. Webb.

He must decide whether to accept a recommendation from the head of the Apollo program to launch the next Saturn 5 moon rocket with men aboard or send it on a third unmanned test to prove it is safe for men.

"I expect a decision shortly," said Maj. Gen. Samuel C. Phillips, the Apollo program director, at a briefing yesterday in Washington.

Phillips said he was confident the problems that marred the last unmanned test flight can be corrected without additional flight tests. Because of that, he recommended to Webb that Project Apollo proceed to manned flights.

Under Phillips' proposal, the next Project Apollo launch will be the flight of astronauts Walter Schirra, Donn Eisele and Walter Cunningham on a smaller Saturn 1B rocket into earth orbit. Their mission, which would be designated Apollo 7, is targeted for September.

Next on Phillips' plan would come the first manned Saturn 5 launch. Astronauts James McDivitt, David Scott and Russell Schweickart would ride the first complete Apollo into earth orbit late this year. Their mission would be Apollo 8.

Non-Profit Groups Held Best Antipoverty Operators

Most federally financed community action agencies, including Marin's Economic Opportunity Council, will have to be operated by local non-profit corporations or similar non-governmental bodies because few local governments can meet Office of Economic Opportunity criteria.

So said Theron J. Bell, director of the state OEO, at a meeting last night of the Marin County of Mayors and Councilmen at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera.

Marin supervisors are scheduled at their regular meeting May 7 to discuss who shall run the county's antipoverty program.

LIKELY CONTROL

The existing Economic Opportunity Council and not the board of supervisors appeared likely to remain in control in view of the criteria described by Bell.

The county government would be ineligible on the basis of population alone, Bell indicated, pointing out that governing bodies must embrace a population of at least 250,000 to administer federal community action programs.

Other criteria are these: community action agencies must have a membership of no more than one third public officials, one third poor people, and one third people from business, industry, religious or educational fields.

Bell noted that May 15 is the deadline for local community action agencies to certify their organization to the OEO for approval or disapproval. So far only one California county, Contra Cost, he said, has decided to operate CAA.

TO BAY AGENCY

The mayors and councilmen elected Corte Madera Mayor Edward Colthurst their representative to the Bay Conservation and Development Commission. They rejected a motion by Belvedere Councilman Edwin J. Drechsel that the appointment be rescinded for consideration at the next meeting, May 22, in Belvedere.

J. Wayne Womack of Novato was appointed representative to the local agency formation commission, but appointments to the regional planning committee and the Bay Area Air Pollution Control board were delayed.

Marin County Administrator Alan Bruce presented a report on a computerized "balanced transportation" study which the county is conducting. Bruce said the computer is being fed a variety of traffic information about the county and is expected to come up with facts to help in the determination of a proper balance between mass transit and the automobile.

The council heard a report on current activities of the Marin County Transit District from the district's general manager, Seymour Kashin. He said that further delay by Marin in seizing the initiative on mass transit may result in a solution being imposed from outside the county.

Hostility On County's Part: Poverty Board

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council last night pictured county government as unsympathetic and hostile and said it wanted to retain leadership of the poverty war.

The council, which lacked a quorum last night for the fourth time in five meetings, was critical of the board of supervisors for not participating in ECO meetings.

A meeting with the supervisors was asked to spell out the EOC's position.

BECOMES ANNOYED

The council, notably Arthur L. Brown, president, became annoyed after noticing that County Administrator Alan Bruce, in a recent letter to the board of supervisors, had made some suggestions about the future of the War on Poverty in Marin.

Under 1967 changes by Congress to the federal Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, called the Green Amendments, local governments — in Marin's case, the board of supervisors — must decide whether to select an existing antipoverty agency to carry on, create a new agency, choose themselves for the job or recognize no agency at all.

Some board members said that Bruce improperly suggested other choices, such as introducing new funding arrangements or increasing the county role in approving EOC programs and budgets.

UPON BY-LAWS

Thomas H. Crawford, field representative of the Western Regional Office of Economic Opportunity, noted, however, that, while the supervisors may wish to redesignate the EOC, it could make this endorsement "contingent upon by-laws changes, but I don't know to what extent."

In his letter, Bruce looked upon placing the War on Poverty in new hands as an "unlikely possibility."

When it was noted that the Green Amendments also would give increased representation by public officials on the EOC, Brown rapped alleged inaction in the past by Marin supervisors.

"Nobody from that board has bothered to come up here," he said. "They have an obligation to the poor people.

"If the people knew that the chairman of the board had a committment but had failed to live up to it, they'd be up in arms."

LAX CHARGES

Brown said the supervisors were receiving "clouded" information and asserted that the chairman of the board (Ernest N. Kettenhofen) was lax for not coming to meetings. (Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella holds the supervisors' official seat on the EOC, having replaced the former chairman, Thomas T. Storer, who resigned it.)

R. Kent Rupp of Forest Knolls, another council member, aimed fire at Storer, saying the supervisor had a "very negative" attitude toward the antipoverty fight and that he "doesn't understand the problem."

"If he's negative," asserted Rupp, "you can imagine what the rest of them are like. They talk in political speeches about starting art classes and opening soda fountains in Marin City, but they don't know what's happening."

'NO WORKING'

"They're not down here working with an agency they created," Rupp added.

"Community action programs (like the EOC) are designed to give voice and power to poor people," said Crawford, "and not to be the child of local government."

The council endorsed this position and agreed to point it out again to the supervisors on May 7, when the board is scheduled to hold a public hearing on designation of an antipoverty agency.

Integration Issue Smolders In New Church

DALLAS (UPI)—The newborn United Methodist Church today struggled with unity pains in the form of a resolution on Vietnam and racial controversies.

Both issues could produce sparks should they come to floor debate again at the uniting conference of the former Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren (EUB) churches.

ASSUMES DUTIES

St. Louis Bishop Eugene M. Frank assumed his duties today as top official of the new church. He said in an exclusive interview yesterday "many of us will have to desert the method of voluntarism" if integration moves too slowly.

He did not elaborate, but touched on a sore point for the denomination born Tuesday.

Some United Methodists think voluntarism will win out and that all remaining Negro conferences in the church will disappear before the 1972 target date.

Others, especially some black Methodists, want 1972 as a mandatory date for integration of the church. The issue took up most of yesterday's plenary session and later was referred to a committee on conferences.

MAINTAIN POSITION

"We will maintain our position of voluntarism on the race issue," said Frank, president-designate of the council of bishops.

Frank said the new church will "be more open" in ecumenical talks than either denomination was in the past and that dialogue with Roman Catholics "will reach new levels of understanding and cooperation."

VIET RESOLUTION

The Vietnam resolution also came before a plenary session yesterday, asking the U.S. government to go "anywhere, anytime" to negotiate and praising President Johnson's move toward negotiations.

But Dr. Chee-Khoon Tan of the Malaya annual conference charged, "You are commending a person who has brought death and destruction to Vietnam.

Ordaining Of Married Deacons Plan To Pope

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Roman Catholic bishops holding a semiannual meeting here yesterday asked Pope Paul IV to allow married deacons to be ordained.

At the same time the bishops, who wind up their sessions today, called for more federal welfare in America's "current social crisis."

The 203 bishops, members of the National Council of Catholic Bishops and its companion organization, the U.S. Catholic Conference, called on the Vatican for "permission to restore in the United States the permanent diaconate for married and unmarried men of mature years."

No provision was made for women deacons.

Most Rev. James P. Shannon, auxiliary bishop of Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn., and spokesman for the bishops, explained at a news conference it was agreed those eligible to become deacons would be married men older than 25, or single men older than 35.

Bishop Shannon said the ordaining of deacons would greatly aid large dioceses with widely separated population centers and those in extremely densely populated urban areas. He said a Catholic deacon could handle all priestly duties—distribution of communion, preaching, baptizing and witnessing marriages—but would not hear confession and celebrate mass.

The bishops, who set up machinery for mediation of church disputes, also took a strong stand on the "national race crisis," calling for more federal welfare for education, housing and job opportunities for Negroes.

They cited a "need for welfare assistance which respects dignity and privacy," and said the "so-called 'man in the house' rule (which bans grants to poor families with "a man in the house") is a national scandal. It is absolutely intolerable that families are being broken up by its application."

Negro education opportunities are "pitifully inadequate," the bishops said in urging Catholic school systems to "redouble their efforts to meet the current social crisis."

Approves Setback

Courts Not Soft On Crime: Mosk

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — State Supreme Court Justice Stanley Mosk says it is a myth that recent court decisions coddle criminals.

Addressing the San Francisco League of Women Voters yesterday Mosk said 80 per cent of persons charged with felonies in 1947 were convicted, the same percentage as in 1950. Since 1960 the figure has fluctuated between 85 and 87 per cent.

This, he said, is "tangible indication that decisions by the U.S. Supreme Court and by the California Supreme Court have not in the slightest hampered prosecution of criminals."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Scientists Think Chicken Pox Bears A Link To Herpes Woes

When an older person develops shingles (herpes zoster), he may have been exposed recently to chicken pox. The majority may recall having the childhood disease and it is likely that some protectve antibodies remained.

VAN DELLEN

The degree of immunity was just little enough to turn the tables following exposure and the result was herpes zoster rather than chicken pox. This is part of the theory that the two diseases are related.

HERPES VIRUSES usually select a single sensory nerve. A typical example is the intercostal nerve running between two ribs on one side of the chest wall. The organism causes extensive and persistent inflammation extending from the spinal column to the terminal nerve endings in the skin.

The initial manifestations are a burning, prickling, or stabbing sensation along the distribution of the infected fibers. A day or two later, tiny blisters filled with fluid appear over the area. These are identical to chicken pox lesions that develop all over the body. The blebs are fragile and easily ruptured, leaving crusty sores.

THESE OUTWARD signs are so typical, diagnosis seldom is in doubt. The eruption usually lasts 10 to 14 days. In time, the scabs fall off leaving residual scarring. Herpes zoster may be followed by a stubborn neuralgia that last months or years.

Prompt treatment with sterold hormones such as ACTH or cortisone offers the best results. Less effective remedies include vitamin B1, procaine, aspirin, ethyl chloride spray, protamide, and intravenous injections of sodium iodide.

The usual attack of shingles is not serious, unless the eye is involved. This complication causes excrutiating pain. Furthermore, when the blisters are located over the clear cornea there is danger that vision will be affected by residual scarring.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

CIGARETTE NERVES

D. M. W. writes: I used to smoke as much as I wanted to while taking nerve pills. Since I quit the medicine, I get nervous and dizzy when I light up. Why do cigarettes affect me this way now?

REPLY

Why blame smoking? Your symptoms may represent a temporary reaction to stopping the tranquilizing tablets. In time your body will adjust to its normal self and you may be able to smoke without getting jittery. Perhaps this is a good time to stop smoking.

OVERLOOKED GALLSTONE

M. W. writes: Do gallstones ever form after the gall bladder has been removed?

REPLY

This is possible, but more often, a rock that escaped from the gall bladder is missed at the time of surgery. These elusive pebbles may hide in the tube that extends from the liver to the intestines (the common duct).

DIET AND ACNE

REPLY

The relationship between diet and acne is a controversial issue. In my experience, certain foods encourage oiliness and pimples. Greasy foods and chocolate head the list of offenders. Too much fat may do the same.

INFLAMED GLAND

A reader writes: Is parotitis the same as mumps?

REPLY

WHY CREEPING SCALP?

A reader writes: What would cause a woman of 60 to have a crawling or creeping sensation in the scalp? The sensation is rather severe at times, then it disappears.

REPLY

Excess use of hair sprays may result in dryness of the scalp. Other possibilities include a nervous condition or hair that needs shampooing.

MASTOID IN ADULT

R. V. writes: Can an adult develop a mastoid infection?

REPLY

Yes. In the past, the condition was more common in children because ear infections — the forerunners of mastoiditis — were highly prevalent before the age of 10. Today this involvement is rare in both children and adults.

ALLERGIC TO ANTIBIOTICS

D. F. writes: What is done for a person who is allergic to all the antibiotics, should he develop a severe infection?

REPLY

Sulfa drugs may be tried first. Or, an antihistaminic agent or adrenalin may be given simultaneously with the antibiotic to reduce the allergic symptoms. Other remedies include the adrenal hormones, such as cortisone.

VEINS AND HERNIA

Mrs. P. writes: Do varicose veins in the legs have anything to do with the development of femoral hernia in a woman?

REPLY

No, but both conditions may develop in persons who have inherited weakened tissues.

Institute Dean Tells Of Courses

C. L. Thacker, associate dean of Cogswell Polytechnical Institute in San Francisco, described the institute's courses in engineering to the education committee of the Marin Human Rights Commission last night in the civic center.

He said the two-year college is open to those with a high school diploma.

Charles B. Weers, committee chairman, reported his group is working on ways to help the functional illiterate — those who go through the motions of a high school education to get their diplomas but who find employment difficult because they have no skills.

Acquittal On Passing A Fradulent Check

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Count yesterday acquitted Lucia Cunningham of Belmont, San Mateo County, of a charge that she passed a fraudulent $399 check at the Hi Ho Motel in Alto July 11.

There was a possibility she may have given the check to the motel manager to hold as a promissory note rather than to cash, the judge held. William O. Weissich defended. Deputy Dist. Atty Robert Birkie prosecuted.

Reserve Units For Riot Duty Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reserve Officers Association has urged President Johnson to reactivate six Army reserve divisions for possible federal use and to free the National Guard for riot duty.

Former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara deactivated the six divisions two years ago in a controversial reorganization that assigned major military reserve responsibility to the National Guard. The deactivated divisions include the 63rd, California.

$650,000 Asked In Death Case

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A $650,000 damage suit was filed yesterday against the San Francisco Life Insurance Co. by beneficiaries of the late Cecilia King McNear Cebrian.

A coroner's jury decided the socialite died last Nov. 25 of brain degeneration caused by habitual use of barbiturates. Death was found to be accidental.

The Superior Court suit alleges the insurance company has failed to redeem a $150,000 policy.

Jose Cebrian, the deceased's husband, and his brother, Luis, ask $75,000 damages, 7 per cent interst since the date of Mrs. Cebrian's death, and $250,000 each for "grief, anxiety, worry."

Civic Council Says Transit Main Interest

Members of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs decided last night they want to invite Seymor Kashin, general manager of the Marin Transit District, to their May 29 meeting.

"Our major interest this year will be on transit," said Walter E. Zurcher, chairman of the council for civic affairs. "We are not very optimistic about getting Greyhound to cooperate in improving bus service, and we want to hear more about it from Mr. Kashin."

Zurcher said his group realizes that some type of improved bus service is the first step in solving the transportation problem. "If Greyhound will play ball, this may be the best way to proceed, even if we have to subsidize."

The council recommended last night that Mrs. Vera Schultz of Mill Valley be appointed to fill a vacancy on the Marin Redevelopment Agency. The recommendation will go to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Teacher Union In Fund Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers announced today a drive to raise a $1 million war chest to help fight court injunctions, fines and jail terms against striking teachers.

The union said President P. L. Siemiller of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists will serve as chairman of a dinner to launch the fund-raising drive May 29 in New York.

"Now that teachers are organizing into the American Federation of Teachers, labor's enemies are trying to snag their right to collective bargaining and its companion right—the right to strike," Siemiller said.

Students' Scale Model Rooms Are On Display

A scale model of their new portable classrooms painted and assembled by Bayside School first graders will be on display for Public School Week open house from 7:30 to 9 p.m. today at the Sausalito School.

The model, which is in the multi-purpose room, shows in tiny details layout of the classrooms into which the youngsters moved yesterday. Their permanent building was condemned last winter.

Rocky Emissaries On Draft Tour

COMBINED AP & UPI

Two emissaries for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller are heading into the Midwest today in a bid to generate a Republican presidential draft.

Nonaligned party members generally doubt they'll succeed. But Rockefeller himself says he thinks the draft movement for him is gaining momentum — and says he's ready to run.

The governor, asked yesterday whether he's already jogging if not running, replied: "I haven't got my feet in concrete, I'll tell you that."

THE EMISSARIES

The emissaries are Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., and William E. Miller, the 1964 Republican candidate for vice president. Their first stop is Minneapolis, Minn., where Gov. Harold LeVander is an ally.

The trip is the first of a series intended by Rockefeller backers to stir up enthusiasm for a draft among national convention delegates.

On the Democratic side, Vice President Humbert H. Humphrey, still casting about for signs his presidential bid would be a winner, has picked up more high-level support for his still unlaunched candidacy.

ADD SUPPORT

Wilbur Cohen, Secretary-designate of Health, Education and Welfare, and New Hampshire Gov. John W. King added their support to the Humphrey presidential boomlet yesterday.

Cohen was the third cabinet officer to endorse Humphrey, joining Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz and Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman. Outgoing Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien and former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara have endorsed Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Humphrey, meanwhile, told a West Virginia audience last night he would announce his decision Saturday in Washington.

The vice president took his uncandidacy into the Deep South today and told University of Mississippi students at Oxford that America must work to solve the closely related problems of rural poverty and urban blight.

UNRUH SUGGESTION

In California, Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, Kennedy's campaign manager there, said he was willing to propose legislation to allow Humphrey's name to appear on the June 4 primary ballot.

In other political developments:

Pennsylvania — Supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy said the Minnesota Senator was clearly the frontrunner in the Democratic race because of his strong showing in the Pennsylvania primary in which he drew close to 400,000 votes.

Indiana — Gov. Roger Branigan, given a solid chance to beat both McCarthy and Kennedy in his state's May 7 primary, said he might run in other primaries if his home showing is good. He also said he would accept the Democratic vice presidential nomination if asked.

Nixon — Campaigning in Oregon, Richard M. Nixon called for more attention to rural America so farmers would "get their share of the expanding economy." The former vice president was scheduled to appear in South Dakota tomorrow.

Kennedy — Promising that he would involve the United States in no more Vietnams, Kennedy told a Bloomington, Ind., rally that America "should give no more assistance to a government against any internal threat than that government is capable of using itself through its own agencies and instruments."

38 Editions Of First Newspaper Go For $17,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty-eight numbers of the Californian, the first newspaper published in that state, went for $17,000 at an auction at the Parke-Bernet Gallery, the gallery announced last night.

The numbers, dated Monterey in 1846 and 1847, were bought by Warren Howell, a San Francisco rare book dealer. He said he bought the papers for himself.

The $17,000 was the highest price paid in the fourth part of the auction of the Americana collection of the late Thomas W. Street, banker, of Montclair, N.J.

Broemmel Explains Assessment Picture

Assessing property values is "the art of finding the least erroneous answer to an unanswerable question," the Marin County assessor explained yesterday.

Assessor Bert W. Broemmel was quoting a court decision on an assessment case as he addressed the Southern Marin League of Women Voters.

Broemmel outlined the changing past and present roles of property taxes in the over-all national tax structure, and explained how property valuations are made and how appeals procedures work.

The state tax base is rising 8 per cent a year, Broemmel said, but costs of education and welfare are rising 20 per cent a year. If, to eliminate most property taxes, the state took the whole burden of education and welfare, it would require doubling present income tax levels and adding two cents to the state sales tax, he said.

Marin now has 77,000 acres in agricultural preserve, he said, the owners agreeing they will not develop the land for other purposes for a 10-year period. In return, their land is appraised as agricultural land instead of residential, commercial or other use.

The preserve system is aimed at ending cases in which farm owners must subdivide, sell or develop their land because of rising taxes.

The drawback in the preserve system, Broemmel said, is that as tax income from preserve lands drops, the burden falls on other property in the area, such as residences and small businesses.

The league was notified that a candidates' night for the six candidates for third district supervisor will be held at 8 p.m. May 15 at the Tamalpais High School Library. The meeting will be co-sponsored by the Southern Marin League of Women voters.

Johnson Leaves Them Laughing In Chicago

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson left them laughing at his first political appearance since pulling out of politics, and he added a chuckle of his own at the notion he might reconsider.

"I never realized withdrawal pains could be so pleasant," the Chief Executive said as he bantered with Illinois Democrats last night.

Johnson made a quick flight to Chicago to address some 4,000 party colleagues at a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner presided over by Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Before and after his speech, a serious plea for national unity and rededication to "winning the peace," Johnson teased his enthusiastic audience about his bombshell announcement March 31 that he would not seek another term.

When the prolonged applause at his arrival died down, Johnson said he had just closed his eyes "and thought for a while that I leaped ahead of time—to another hall in the stockyards," where the August Democratic convention will be held.

"Then I realized who I was—the president, not the vice president or one of the members of the Senate."

In his prepared speech, Johnson said division in the nation must be healed.

No matter how strong and prosperous the country might be, he said, "no nation can long endure when citizen is turned against citizen—cause against cause—section against section—generation against generation—by the mean and selfish spirit of partisanship.

"America's political parties must become the guardians of all our people."

The President urged his audience "not as partisans, not as Democrats, not as Republicans" but "only and always as Americans" to view the nation's accomplishments to sustain better unity and understanding.

Truck Stolen

A 1954 Chevrolet one and one-half ton flat bed truck was stolen from the parking lot of Goodman Builders Emporium, 369 Third Street, San Rafael, sometime between 6 p.m. Tuesday and 8 p.m. yesterday, San Rafael police reported today.

Two Marinites Named To Civic Unity Board

Two Marin residents were named last night to the board of directors of the Council for Civic Unity, Bay Area civil rights organization, in a meeting in San Francisco.

Named to the board were John E. Cahill of Kentfield and Mrs. William K. Gealey. They join Mel Wax of Sausalito, last year's council president, on the board.

James Vann, new board member from Richmond, spoke on the need for responsible citizens to address themselves to the major problems of economic justice, police-community relations, housing, and self-determination for community groups.

New officers for the council are John Riordan of San Francisco, president; Staton Webster of Berkeley, vice president; Hunt Conrad of San Francisco, treasurer, and Mrs. Egon Buchbinder of Castro Valley, secretary.

The council, formed more than 20 years ago, has reorganized this year and has opened a new office at 495 Fulton Street, San Francisco.

Sanitary District Directors See Lower Service Charge

The 19-cent tax rate in the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District is expected to remain unchanged, but the sewer service charges will be lowered by 25 per cent next fiscal year, directors decided last night.

Homes, now charged $12 per year in service charges, will be paying only $9 annually. Commercial establishments, now paying 75 cents per year per fixture unit, will also get a 25-per-cent reduction.

Directors decided on the reduction after reviewing the preliminary budget for 1968-69, estimated at $135,000. The budget for the current year is $134,800. However, the amount expected to be spent by the end of June this year is $112,000, District Secretary Helen Foulkes reported. She said the unspent portion, $22,800, will be passed on to the taxpayers in the form of the service charge reduction.

The directors, headed by Chairman John E. Duckett, approved a 6-per-cent salary raise for the six employees of the district, beginning next January.

The sanitary district covers Terra Linda, Marinwood, Lucas Valley, Santa Venetia, Gallinas Village and San Rafael Meadows.

The directors will continue discussing the budget at the next regular meeting May 9.

$15,700 Grant For Planning

A $15,700 grant to pay two-thirds of the cost of comprehensive planning for the City of Sausalito was announced today by the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Washington, D. C.

City Mgr. George M. Patterson said the money will be used for any necessary work in competition of the central waterfront plan, and revisions in the sign, zoning and subdivision ordinances.

An approximate $3000 cost for printing the general plan and the central waterfront plan will be paid by the city, with the balance of its share in the total cost probably being made up by work assigned city staff members.

Assembly Approves New Marijuana Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee chairman today called present narcotic and drug control laws inconsistent.

But Sen. Donald Grunsky, R-Watsonville, said he has not decided whether to support an Assembly-passed bill easing the penalty for marijuana possession when it is heard by his committee next month.

"The present inconsistency in penalties between LSD and marijuana is unreasonable," Grunsky told a reporter. "But what direction we will take . . . I'm not prepared to say."

The bill, which also toughens penalties for possession of such dangerous drugs as LSD, cleared the lower house 50-25 yesterday. If it becomes law, penalty provisions for first offense marijuana and dangerous drug possession would be the same.

Thirty-two Democrats and 18 Republicans supported the bill while 19 Republicans and six Democrats voted no. The vote sent the bill to the Senate, where President pro tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, said it would be assigned to the Judiciary Committee.

The measure is a major easing of the tough narcotics enforcement law enacted in 1961 — a statute that opponents say has failed to stem a rising tide of youthful narcotics and drug use.

The present law requires that a first conviction for marijuana possession is a felony, carrying a penalty of from one to 10 years in state prison.

A judge, however, may suspend the sentence rather than sending a youthful first offender to a state prison to serve time among hardened criminals. The felony conviction would remain on his record.

The revision, by Assemblyman W. Craig Biddle, R-Riverside, would give a judge a choice of imposing the felony penalty or handing down a misdemeanor sentence of only one year or less in the county jail.

For LSD and other dangerous drugs, judges would also be given a choice of felony or misdemeanor penalties. Now, they must impose only the milder misdemeanor penalty.

Biddle told the Assembly during an hour and a half of debate that the marijuana law is so tough now that "in many instances people are not prosecuted . . . many judges and juries find the defendant innocent because of the penalty.

Berkeley Receives $258,000 Grant

BERKELEY (AP) — The Carnegie Foundation announced today a grant of $258,000 to the University of California to increase minority group enrollment in the School of Social Welfare on the Berkeley campus.

Dean Milton Chernin said faculty members from minority groups will assist him in administering the program.

The average female lobster lays 8,000 to 10,000 eggs.

Slim Senate Victory On Film Tax Break

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Declaring Hollywood a "disaster area," a Democratic senator mustered just enough support for Senate passage of legislation to aid the movie industry with a multimillion-dollar tax break.

Sen. Ralph C. Dills of Gardena said yesterday the poverty section of Watts in Los Angeles has a 30 per cent unemployment rate, but is "far better off than Hollywood" with a 42.6 per cent jobless rate.

By a 27-6 vote — the bare two-thirds approval required in the 40-member Senate — his measure went to the Assembly. It seeks to end the "unique inequity" in the inventory tax assessing system for movie films by removing intangible values, such as copyrights and exhibition rights.

The present tax hardships lead studios to cut production drastically and to process their film in other states or abroad, Dills said.

He said this results in 12 weeks of job layoffs every year, resultant payroll loss of $1.3 million weekly and cost to the state of about a half-million dollars a week in unemployment payments and loss of income tax and other contributions.

The major reason other senators opposed the measure was because it singles out one industry for aid, yet doesn't provide for restoring to local governments the tax revenue loss which results.

Charge Eased In Marijuana

Ronald Earl Sanders, 23, of Gate 5, Sausalito, escaped a felony marijuana charge yesterday by pleading guilty in Marin Superior Court to a misdemeanor, being in a place where marijuana is used.

Sanders, who was immediately transferred to Los Angeles to face a charge of selling marijuana to a narcotics agent, had been accused of possessing a marijuana cigarette at his houseboat March 22, 1967.

Deputy Dist. Atty. John Ralph Thomas said yesterday that the plea to the lesser offense was accepted because, in the year since Sanders' arrest, four witnesses and some of the evidence has disappeared.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson sentenced Sanders to four months in jail, the time he has been incarcerated awaiting trial.

Jobless Bills Unite Factions In Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Democratic and Republican Assembly leaders joined today in an effort to put California's more than 400,000 unemployed back on the job — with special emphasis on minority groups and the poverty-stricken.

They joined with Republican Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch to announce the program. Finch is chairman of the state Job Training and Placement Council.

Six current bills were assembled and revised into a broad package to be heard in an Assembly committee May 7.

Finch commented in a prepared statement, "The bipartisan nature of these bills indicates the seriousness with which we all view the critical need for action in this field now."

Democratic Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh of Inglewood said the series of bills is designed "to meet the unique problems of our California cities."

Republican Assembly leader Robert T. Monagan of Tracy said, "These bills seek to direct our total community resources, public and private, where there is the greatest need . . . to ultimately draw disadvantaged Californians into the mainstream of society."

The object of the bills and their sponsors:

To create a state Department of Human Resources Debelopment "to provide a full range of needed services to the hard-core unemployed on an individualized basis"; Unruh.

Elimination of racial discrimination in job apprenticeship programs; Assemblyman Leon Ralph, D-Los Angeles.

Creation of a two-year pilot program under which private, nonprofit associations provide technical assistance to small businessmen in poverty areas; Unruh .

To encourage banks to make "high risk" loans in urban poverty areas; Monagan.

To create the California Job Development Corp., bringing private money into urban poverty areas; Assemblyman William Campbell, R - Hacienda Heights.

To give a tax incentive to businessmen who hire the hard-core unemployed; Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R-Modesto.

Musical Open House For Kettenhofen

Doug Karr will play the banjo and Norine St. Pierre will sing and play the guitar at an open house inaugurating Kettenhofen for Supervisor headquarters tomorrow in the Fair-Anselm Center, Fairfax.

The program will start at 5:30 p.m. and will include refreshments, announced Ernest N. Kettenhofen, candidate for re-election from the Second Supervisorial District.

Committee Dumps Oil Measures; Bennett Clashes With Legislator

SACRAMENTO (AP) — As it has for years, legislation to raise oil company taxes has been trounced — but this time to accusations of dishonesty, behind-the-scenes lobbyist influence and a threat of personal violence.

The roughest exchange of the debate yesterday before the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee came during testimony by William M. Bennett of Kentfield, an outspoken member of the State Public Utilities Commission.

"You are hampered, you are confused by myths. We're being the suckers of all time," he told the legislators.

Democratic Assemblyman John P. Quimby of Rialto, who walks with the aid of metal crutches, exploded that Bennett was "grandstanding" and protested at the critical tone of Bennett's remarks. When they continued, Quimby shouted for a halt or "I'll have to crutch you one around the head!"

In a level tone, Bennett looked up at Quimby sitting five feet away and remarked, "I wouldn't advise that, for your sake."

At issue were two bills by Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco, which he said would bring in $48 million more annually to state coffers. One would eliminate the 27.5 per cent deduction oil firms now take off gross income before figuring taxes. The other proposed a two per cent tax on oil produced in California.

Richard Fenton, representing the smallest oilmen, charged unnamed witnesses with making "rash, implausible, dishonest. . . deliberately misleading" statements. Bennett, who is seeking the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination this year, had been the only witness other than Burton.

When the time came to act, Burton couldn't get anyone to move passage of his bills, and the motion finally adopted was to kill them by keeping them in the committee.

Tighter U.C. Control Bills Get Setback

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Major measures designed to give the Legislature tighter control over the University of California are put to rest in a key Senate committee.

The Governmental Efficiency Committee yesterday took the two proposals "under submission," making it unlikely that they will be reconsidered this session.

One was a constitutional amendment by Sen. John Schmitz, R-Tustin, placing the University of California regents under direct control of the legislature and abolishing their autonomy.

Another measure, by Sen. H. L. Richardson, R - San Diego, was to put responsibility for all actions on any U.C. campus directly on the university president.

The committee approved two measures toughening legislative control on the state colleges.

One measure by Richardson would require the Senate to approve the governor's appointments to the college board of trustees. The other requires the state college system to list lobbying expenses.

Racism Held Serious Mental Illness Form

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Fred R. Harris, a member of President Johnson's antiriot commission, said racism — in Negroes as well as whites — is a serious and widespread form of mental illness.

"Racism constitutes the number one mental health problem in America today," Harris said Tuesday. "We're going to have to face up to the problems it causes or else we're going to leave a rather sorry legacy for our children and grandchildren."

The Oklahoma Democrat made his comments in a speech to the Washington chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, a national journalism fraternity, shortly after a mental health organization reported to Congress Tuesday that studies showed racism "is a clear and present danger to the mental health of all children and their parents."

The organization, the Joint Commission on Mental Health of Children, told a Senate subcommittee that "without massive intervention, minority children between now and the end of the century will be growing up in mentally unhealthy atmospheres rampant with substandard housing, inferior education and poor health care."

Harris said the first thing to be done is "to remove the artificial barriers which keep a man from getting a decent job."

He called for removal of discrimination in labor unions and for some form of "income maintenance" to help supply needy poor people money to live without subjecting them to the indignities of welfare.

Burn Hours Are Now Uniform For Backyards

Backyard burning hours in residential areas are now uniform throughout Marin, 7 a.m. to noon, Larkspur Fire Chief George Bartram, president of the Marin County Fire Chiefs Association, reported yesterday.

For years the cities and Marin County have differed on the hours, but agreement was reached at a meeting of the association yesterday, said County Fire Chief Louis Bloom. The 7 a.m. to noon period will apply all year, he noted.

Chief Bloom also reported that the fire season will begin May 15 and open burning will be prohibited. Incinerator burning will be allowed by permit in the unincorporated area, he said.

Fire season regulations vary in the cities and fire districts, Chief Bloom said. "Some require permits and others don't" for incinerator burning.

Publishers Hear Tax Hike Call

NEW YORK (UPI)—David Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank, called yesterday for an immediate tax increase coupled with restraint in government spending to meet what he termed "the crisis of the dollar—a dollar which is both a vehicle and a symbol of U.S. economic strength."

Rockefeller spoke at the annual convention luncheon of the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA).

"In the most immediate sense," he said, "the crisis is a test of our financial management. But it is much more than that. Quite simply, it boils down to whether we, as a nation, have the will and the capacity to face up to the burdens of leadership in a world of turmoil.

CROWNED — Cheryl Ulrich of 990 Idylberry Road, San Rafael, has been crowned "Miss Maritime Princess 1968" and will reign over National Maritime Day events May 19 in Aquatic Park in San Francisco. She is employed as a secretary by American President Lines.

April 30 is the deadline for candidates for District 3 Dairy Princess to send in their applications, according to Petaluma Chamber of Commerce Mgr. Ned Davis. Marin is included in the district's seven counties.

Candidates should send their applications to the American Dairy Association offices in Modesto. The district winner will compete for the title of California Dairy Princess.

QUARANTINE ON MUSSELS BEGINS MAY 1

The yearly quarantine of mussels will go into effect May 1, Marin County Health Director Carolyn Albrecht warned today. The ban on consumption of the shellfish is due to a highly toxic poison present during the summer and fall months.

Dr. Albrecht also warned that clams should be cleaned and washed thoroughly and that all dark portions of the meat should be discarded, since they contain the highest concentration of poison. In addition, clams should be taken only from areas free of sewage contamination.

The health director said the shellfish should not be fed to pets. The quarantine will be in effect through October 31.

Father's Name Was Incorrect

Sailing Sunday? Be A Welcome Hand

By BARBARA HOSMER

If you've been lucky enough to have been invited to be a guest aboard somebody's boat for opening day of the yachting season Sunday, rejoice! But if it's an all new adventure for you or some of the family there are some do's and don'ts to heed.

DO wear the right sort of clothes for your own comfort and to fit in with the sailing crowd. Unless you're going aboard a very large, elegant, liner-size craft, expect to spend most of the time exposed to winds, sun and spray. Wide skirts, fussy little shoes, elaborate hairstyles and floppy hats should all be left ashore.

DON'T lug along a huge, square-edged purse or leather suitcase. A flight bag is great for extra sweaters and scarves, and a totebag style purse is handier. Hard, square-edged bags and suitcases are bears to stow aboard a boat. Leave the dangling type earrings and bracelets home too. Jangling jewelry may get caught in the lines or salt-sprayed as the boat beats out to the rendezvous point under the Golden Gate.

DO consider a denim skirt and blouse outfit or tailored full length slacks or denims that will be trim, attractive and comfortable in all weather. And be sure a warm jacket is aboard for every member of your family.

DO take along a small scarf or close-fitting tie-down cap to keep the unruly locks in place and ears warm when traditional opening day breezes blow. And of course sunglasses and sun lotion are musts as well.

DON'T wear hard-soled shoes aboard a boat unless you wish to test the skipper's ire. Marks left on a carefully smoothed or varnished deck are unforgivable to any sailor. Topsider shoes are ideal, and if you lack those, sneakers are best.

DO help the hostess bring provisions for hungry guests, but only after checking with the skipper or his wife beforehand to see what menu is planned.

DON'T play Lady Bountiful and surprise the hosts at the gangplank with armloads of foods that aren't needed and can't be stowed anywhere in an already packed galley.

DON'T bound aboard any craft until the skipper invites you and is ready to help you step on deck.

DO help him carry needed gear aboard and again help tote the gear onto the dock when the sail is over.

DON'T smoke unless the skipper tells you it's all right. Do ask him where you can sit to stay out of the way while he and the crew are rigging, starting engines, casting off lines and raising sails.

DO assist if you've had boating experience and are instructed by the skipper. Don't release or make fast lines until he gives you the order.

DON'T toss garbage and refuse overboard, either in the harbor or when under way. Never throw empty pop cans overboard. The hostess will have a place below to collect refuse for dumping in the yacht

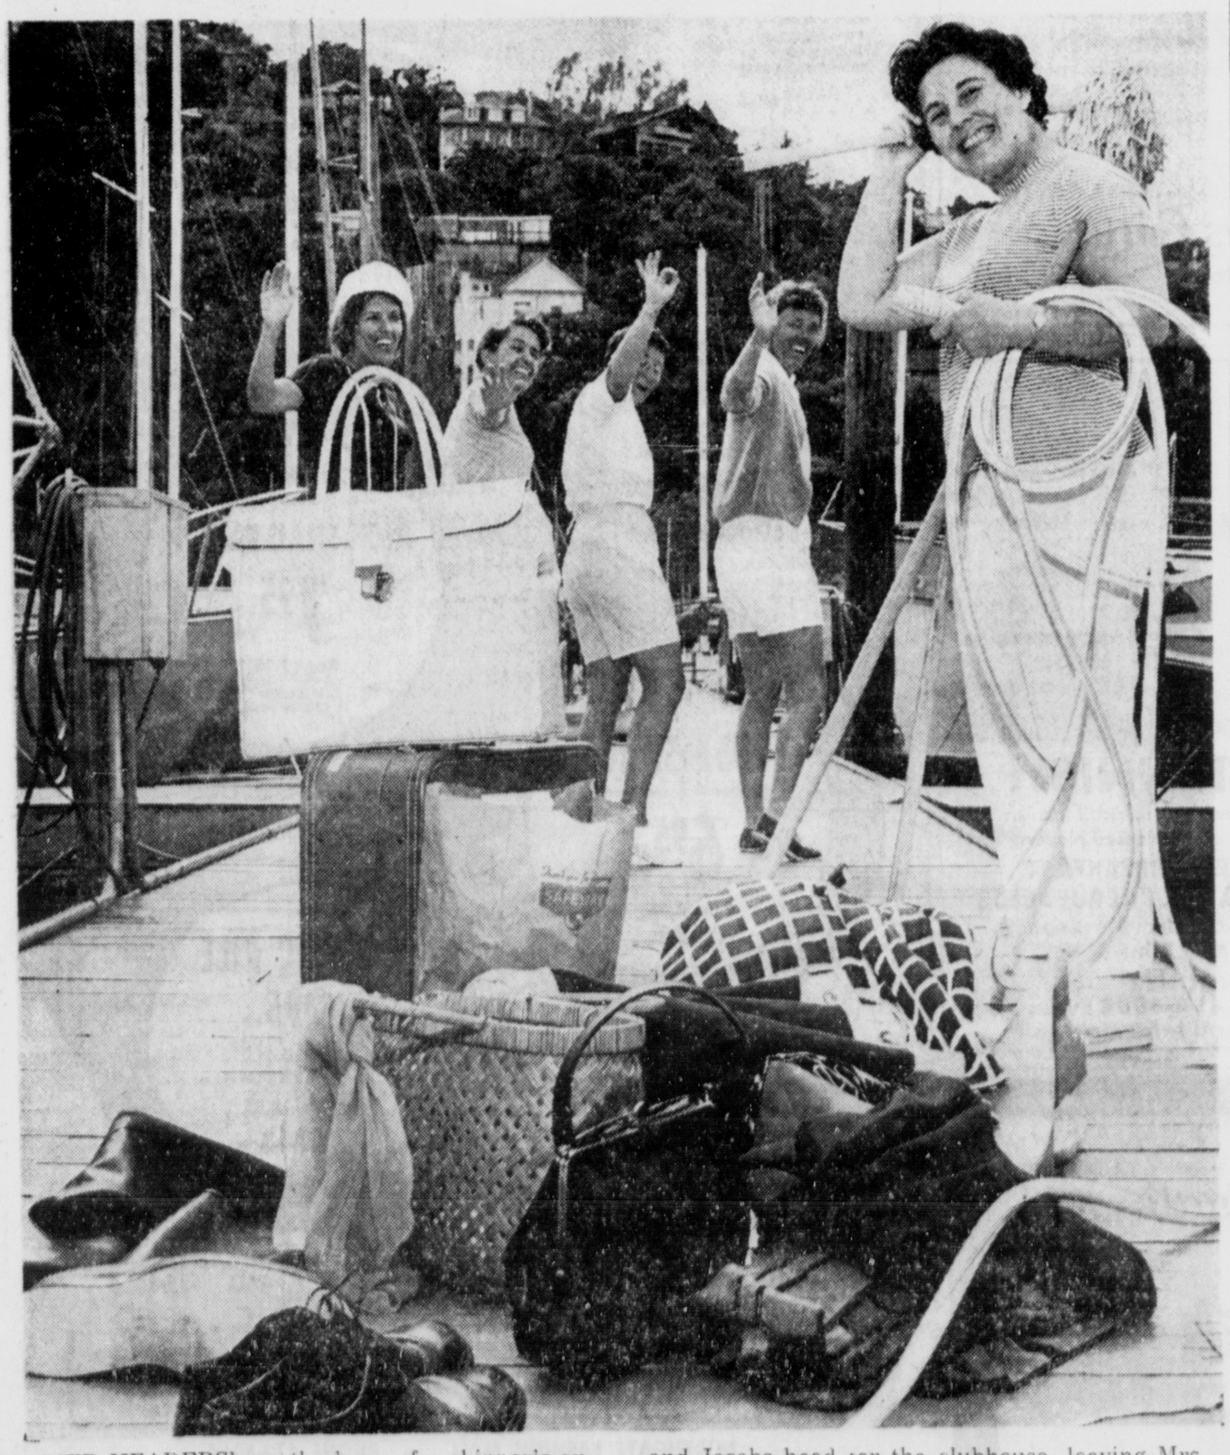
Marin Women

OOPS! A boating accident is on its way to happening as Mrs. Herbert Ross, who really knows better, finds her flowing chiffon scarf tangled in the jib sheet winch aboard the Bekins family Triton class yacht. Looking yar at the helm is Mrs. Donald Bekins as Denise Ross also has the jib sheet looped around her neck to illustrate "how not to" aboard a yacht.

ILLUSTRATING a skipper's nightmare, Mrs. Bruce Jacobs, in flowing skirtsh and with high heel caught in the dock, and Mrs. Donald Bekins arrive to board the cruiser Shorne II with large, hard-edged suitcase. On deck in her own trim yachting attire and soft-soled shoes, Mrs. Paul Duggan views her wrongly-dressed guests and all their gear with something less than pleasure.



'PIER HEADERS' are the bane of a skipper's existence—guests who hop ashore after the sail waving a cheery goodbye and leaving the owner to do all of the cleanup. Showing us "how not to be invited back," Mesdames Bekins, Mathews, Ross and Jacobs head for the clubhouse, leaving Mrs. Paul Duggan with swab and bucket to wash the saltwater from the craft and round up the gear. Cleanup after sailing is one time when all hands are welcome to help.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

There May Be More Than One Side To This Innocent Victim Story

DEAR HELEN:

My sister is 14, and I am 12. One day while my parents were working, she got up from the table and threw hot soup at me. I went upstairs crying while she stood there laughing. All my folks said to her when they got home was, "You should not have done that."

Two days later we were in the bedroom, and she was putting hot oil on her hair. It burned her just a tiny bit, so I smiled because she made a funny face. I didn't dare laugh. Even so, she dumped the oil on top of my head. When we came to dinner my mother yelled and screamed and hit me because I was a mess. After I explained, she still said I caused the trouble because I was always bugging my sister.

Now I am grounded for two months, without even TV. I have to eat my dinners alone and don't get an allowance. Please tell me, who bugs who at my house?

—ALWAYS THE WORM

DEAR WORM:

Sounds like everybody is kind of buggy at your house—also antsy!

While I doubt that you're always the innocent victim, I'm quite sure your sister deserves at least half the blame—and maybe a lot more than half.

Too bad your parents can't realize that playing favorites gets them disliked by all the kids, even their favorite. —H.

P.S. It's also too bad I haven't seen the other two sides to this picture. If you'd try to see them, perhaps you wouldn't be writing to me. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am 20 and have a baby. I was married, but we separated in three months. Now I'm living with my folks. The trouble is, they treat me like a child, and they take over training my little boy, as if he were my brother, not my son. They won't let me have any say at all and, as he gets older, it gets worse.

Now I've met a fine man that I could really love. He wants to marry me and adopt my baby. He's everything my first husband wasn't.

But my parents won't let me date until next year. They say one foolish mistake is enough, and I need to settle down.

Helen, if I'm old enough to work, support my son, be married and divorced, shouldn't I be old enough to decide on how I'll live my life? —BOSSED

DEAR BOSSED:

If you're old enough for all these things, why are you living at home? People who really want to live their own lives, don't run back to mama. —H.

PERSONAL TO "SEEING DOUBLE" — Flake off! Your identical twin stories give me credibility-gaposis.

Funny thing—a hoaxer never stops with just one letter, so he almost always gives himself away. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

My mother married a man I hate. They separated, and I was glad. Now I hear they're going together again.

Should I tell my mother he tried to get fresh with me?

—AGE 16

DEAR 16:

Only if it's the truth.—H.

Keep Happy Hours Alive With Photo Team Projects

One of the truly memorable souvenirs of a wedding is the album of photographs which is a traditional part of the day. But camera experts suggest that you supplement this with a happy, 'new' gift — a second album of photographs taken by family and friends.

This takes a bit of organization and teamwork: an executive producer and staff of cameramen and women. Because this album covers more than just the wedding day. It starts with the engagement party and goes right through the reception.

Obviously, not any one person (not even the bride or bridegroom!) attends every party. So a close friend or bridesmaid must be in charge of photographing showers. The best man or an usher takes over at the stag party. Someone else does the rehearsal and the party that follows it. A sister can catch the gifts in all their glory. With his carefree camera and his access to the premises, Junior can provide amusing pictures of family confusion. And everyone can click away at the reception. There are almost limitless possibilities, beyond the traditional.

Anyone can produce excellent candid shots these days. No need for elaborate focusing with new instant-load cameras. Flash cubes are simple and effective. And every eye sees something different and can catch it on film.

The executive producer must hand out assignments and make sure they are followed. The picture won't let you forget; but you have to get it on schedule. And then it must be developed promptly and inserted in the gift album by the time the couple return from their wedding trip.

What a book this is, dedicated to the newlyweds by a large staff of camera-happy friends! It's one gift that will never be returned or duplicated.

Ample Stock Of Meat, Fowl And Fresh Vegetables

WASHINGTON (UPI) — USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that weekend shoppers can make their selections from ample stocks of meat and poultry and good supplies of some fresh vegetables and fruit in food stores and supermarkets.

Turkey continues as a meat in abundant supply. Bacon, ham and pork steaks are in the abundant class in the pork department. Shoppers should also find ample displays of beef from which to make their choices, especially steak and ground beef. North Pacific halibut steaks and fish fillets are fish buys to watch for, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Carrots and lettuce are the most abundant fresh vegetables, followed closely by cabbage and radishes. Fruits in the abundant class include oranges, and in some areas, grapefruit, apples, bananas and strawberries.

Shoppers will find eggs and milk as well as most dairy products in abundant supply.

In the West:

Both turkey hens and young tom turkeys are showing a five to six cent per pound decrease in the Seattle area this week, but young toms are slightly higher in Portland and San Francisco.

Grade AA medium eggs have declined two cents per dozen in Los Angeles, where large and small eggs are one cent less than a week ago.

Pork loins are up two to four cents in Portland. Significant changes around San Francisco include a one to three cent decrease on sliced bacon, and a three to 5 cent decline on fresh skinned hams.

Dinner Dance Saturday Has New Meaning For Ross Valley Parents

When the Ross Valley Nursery School parents have their annual "Roulette Romp" dinner and dancing party Saturday, it will have added meaning this year as a fund raiser. The proceeds go entirely to the building fund, and, after years of seeking a new site and relocation of the nursery school, the trustees have plans under way for remodeling and landscaping the facility on the newly acquired property for the school. The location is the Forsythe property in Kentfield between Marin Catholic High School and Wolfe Grade School, at 689 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The school's program will be expanded with the change.

The co-operative nursery school, which serves the Ross Valley area, will be able to accommodate 36 to 40 pupils at each of the three sessions with the planned expansion of facilities. Construction is scheduled for completion in time for the September opening.

Meanwhile, the party Saturday evening will aid the building efforts. The festivities will take place at the gymnasium on the Donlon Gabrielsen property in Ross.

FRIENDSHIP NIGHT for all Rebekah Lodges in district 61 hosted by Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 at the Odd Fellows Temple will be tonight instead of tomorrow as previously printed.

SAN RAFAEL Assembly 195, Order of Rainbow for Girls will hold an initiation and majority degree Saturday. Receiving the initiation degree will be Dee Driver, Patty Garbarino, Ann Gillespie, Cynthia Hill, Pat Irwin, Debra Lang, Ann Pittee, Tammy Ready, Beryl Simpson and Debbie Tonking. Cindy Hunt and Chris Larson will receive majority degrees at 1:30 p.m. at Masonic Hall, San Rafael.

THE INTERNATIONAL World Wings, former Pan American stewardesses, have a project under way to provide a special classroom at Sonoma State Hospital which would permit the development of a new technique for the hard-to-teach child and the retarded child.

Saturday evening the Bay Area and Marin chapters plan a cocktail party at St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco as a fund-raising event for the hospital. Mrs. Fred Perdue of Terra Linda is chairman for Marin County.

"SHELL OUT for a Dug Out" is the theme for the annual dance planned by the Marinwood-Lucas Valley Little League Women's Auxiliary Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Marinwood Community Center. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bahlkes are chairmen. A gold bikini will be awarded to the winner of a Mad Hatters contest. Tickets are available at the door, and dancing will be from 9 to 1.

THE SENIOR High Youth Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael is having a rummage sale on Saturday in Canoles Hall at the church, 1510 Fifth Avenue. They will sell books, games, toys, glassware, china and clothes and will be open from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Proceeds will be used for the youth group's work trips in August. They plan to help in building projects in Texas, Mexico and Los Angeles.

THE NEWLY formed volunteers for the Marin Child Development Center will give their first fund-raising event, a miscellaneous sale, with both old and new items offered, Saturday and Sunday at the Center School in the Westminster Presbyterian Church building in Tiburon. The sale hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Stanley Kane is chairman, and Mrs. Richard Mobley, assistant. Funds raised will benefit the center, which assists marginally handicapped pre-school age children.

THE MARIN County Chapter of the National Association of Women in Construction will hold their annual Bosses' Night in honor of all the bosses of chapter members at the San Geronimo Country Club on Saturday. Chairman is Mrs. Johnny Ribeiro. Cocktails will begin at 7 p.m. with dinner and dancing at 8 p.m. Marin County WICs will present their annual donation to the College of Marin for use in purchasing books for the library.

A STARLIGHT cruise, the annual fund-raising event of Bel Aire and Granada Units the Reed Parent-Teachers Club, is scheduled for Saturday.

The evening will start with cocktails at The Dock restaurant in Tiburon at 6 p.m., boarding of the Harbor Queen at The Dock is promptly at 7 p.m. An orchestra will play for dancing on the boat as it carries the merrymakers to the Marco Polo Restaurant in Jack London Square, Oakland. Dancing will continue during the dinner.

Mrs. Gale Mosier and Mrs. Arthur Andre are co-chairmen.

PAST MATRONS of the Novato Chapter, Order of Eastern Star will sponsor a salad bar luncheon and card party at the Novato Community House at noon Friday.

Past matrons are Mesdames Lee Wise, Dexter Sheraw, Lawrence Chapmen, Francis Porter, John Conway, Lott Vickers, Lewis Carleson, Joseph A. Tubb, Pratt Sprague, James Sutton, Fred Nave and John Hoekman of the Novato chapter and Mrs. William Gnoss, past matron of San Francisco, and Mrs. Ralph Welch, past matron of Youngstown, Ohio.

IN HONOR of the 149th anniversary of Odd Fellowship, the members of Marin Star Theta Rho Girls 121 will hold an installation of officers on Friday at 8 p.m. The installation is open to the public at the Odd Fellows Temple, San Rafael.

Miss Cynthia Russo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Russo, Mill Valley, will be installed as president of Marin Star. Cynthia is a charter member and has served a term as recording secretary and vice president.

Other officers to be installed are Janice Hoffmen, vice president; Jean Snyder, financial secretary; Debbie Dickinson, recording secretary, and Debbie Curry, treasurer.

Jean Snyder Jr., past president, will be installing officer. Rise Russo will serve as staff marshall and Claudia Walters as staff chaplain.

Members of San Rafael Canton 39 will present and retire the colors as well as act as escorts for the officers-elect. Mrs. Elmer Kaysen, a member of Golden Star Rebekah Lodge 112 and Marin Star 121, will be musician. Members of the Odd Fellows lodges will be honored by the members of Marin Star after the installation. Jacquie Willey will be seated as the junior past president.

YOU'RE ROCKING THE BOAT! While Mrs. Donald Bekins and Mrs. Herbert Ross stand up in the small skiff, having a heated argument, Mrs. Mathew, Mrs. Jacobs and Mrs. Duggan look on in horror, afraid they all may be swamped. The women pictured are involved with the women's sailing training program at San Francisco Yacht Club, Belvedere, which begins Monday. Here they give a preview of poor boating practice in anticipation of the 1968 yachting season which officially opens with the nautical parade on Sunday. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

SAILING SUNDAY?

club trash bin ashore. Do help dump it after the sail. . . .

DO keep jackets, scarves and other articles neatly stowed when not in use. Don't scatter things around the deck or cockpit, to be stepped on or blown overboard.

DON'T sit on deck so that you block the skipper's view in any way. He needs a full view on opening day when hundreds of craft are maneuvering in usually choppy waters.

DO relax and enjoy the fantastic scenery from the bay, and do ask the hostess if you can help serve any refreshments when the time is right.

DON'T sit or stand on any lines and stay clear of the mainsheet if you're lucky enough to be aboard a sailing vessel.

DO help the skipper swab down the deck and wash saltwater from the windshield after reaching home port. And do assist with the clearing up of the galley.

IF YOU don't do the "don'ts," then do look forward to being a welcome hand aboard for both opening day and future cruises.

Outdoor Art Club President Says Days Too Short For Busy Life

Mrs. Alan D. Ewen, president-elect of Mill Valley's Outdoor Art Club, says her one regret is that days aren't long enough to permit her greater participation in the many facets of her daily life.

"With a husband equally busy in business (he is vice president of the Pacific Molasses Company in San Francisco) as I am in community activities," she says, "I enjoy most of the moments we can share relaxing in our home and garden or hiking on a remote mountain trail."

The new president has served the club as second vice president and program chairman two years and ways and means chairman one year since she first joined in 1958. She is enthusiastic over its conservation and civic aspects and hopes to stress them in her term of office.

She is also secretary of Belvedere Guild No. 1 of Sunny Hills and vice president and program chairman for Marin Federated Republican Women and is a member of the Marin Chapter of the American Association of University Women, Ikebana International and Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Margie, as she is called, holds a B.S. degree from the University of California at Los Angeles and was employed 11 years as home service director of the southwest division of a large utility company in Southern California. In this position she conducted cooking programs for audiences of up to 2,000 people. She conducted cooking demonstrations on TV and had a test kitchen for recipe testing. She also worked with Boy and Girl Scout groups teaching nutrition and cooking.

In 1957 the Ewenses moved from Los Angeles to Mill Valley when Mr. Ewen was appointed assistant managing director for the Olympic Winter Games held in Squaw Valley in 1960.

MRS. ALAN D. EWEN

Margie's training and experience account for many of her current interests — entertaining, both formal and informal, and serving gourmet dinners. Interior decorating and landscape design are favorite hobbies too.

"I have served as design and interior decorating consultant for several friends on their new homes, and they are still friends," she laughs. "I designed our present home in Belvedere and its landscaping, and my husband and I executed the modified Oriental landscaping which entailed moving some 10 tons of rock.

"I am also interested in Japanese culture, especially flower arrangement and have studied the Shin Kado School under Tatsuo Fujioka in San Francisco.

"I prefer the out-of-doors and enjoy golfing, skiing, both water and snow, and camping and gardening.

"As a third generation Californian I am greatly interested in our state, its historical past, its political present and future and its many scenic and recreational natural resources. As members of the California Historical Society my husband and I have visited the many historic sites in the state. We have hiked portions of the John Muir High Sierra Trail and most of the trails of the recently opened Pt. Reyes National Seashore."

The Ewens have no children.

Also elected to serve with Mrs. Ewen are Mesdames George Gustafson, first vice president; Robert Andresen, second vice president; Warren Staiger, recording secretary; Erling Michaelsen, corresponding secretary; William Moen, treasurer; and Miss Lois Walker, business secretary.

New executive board members are Mesdames Jack Shapiro, house; Willis Elliott, rentals; Ronald Kelly, membership; Louis Starr, grounds; Albert Miller, community services; Roy Simpkins, ways and means; Walter Johnson, historian and publicity; J. Paul Hurd, director-at-large; John Barnard, civics and conservation; Leroy Everett, cultural arts; George Grant, finance; Carlton Bamgan and Eugene McGeorge, advisory committee; and Walter Long, grounds committee.

Two Districts Cancel Bolinas Merger Plan

The proposed merger of the Bolinas Fire Protection District and the Bolinas Community Public Utility District was called off last night by action of both boards.

The fire board, which met first at 7 p.m., canceled its original resolution asking for the merger.

At 8 p.m., the utility board met and postponed further action on the merger, which had been approved by the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission.

When Marin County supervisors heard the merger proposal, they returned it to the local agency commission for revision, to prevent double taxation of some areas for services.

Opponents of the merger had presented petitions to the supervisors, their objections based mostly on the effect on the Stinson Beach County Water District and the Bolinas Harbor District.

Under the merger, the utility district was to expand its boundaries to coincide with those of the fire district and the fire district would be dissolved. The merged district would have overlapped the Stinson water district, and the question rose whether the new district would tax the Stinson area only for fire protection or for utility service as well.

The utility board's postponement was to allow time for clarification of the taxation boundaries.

Fire district board chairman Manuel S. Peters said his board would revive the merger when more information is available.

Couple Treated After Battle

A family argument brought a common-law Marin City man and wife to the emergency room ata Marin General Hospital yesterday afternoon.

Yvonne Allen, 32, who said her husband, Leroy Roberson, 35, cut her hand with a pocket knife, received stitches in the hand.

Burglars Steal Antique Rifle

Burglars stole a tape recorder and a muzzle-loading, cap and ball rifle of Civil War vintage from the home of Robert H. Mosher at 44 Madrone Park Circle, Homestead Valley, Monday or Tuesday, deputies said today. The burglar entered through an uniocked window.

Raymond James Massagli Sr. of 530 Midvale Way, Tamalpais Valley, complained to deputies that someone kicked in his door and stole $70 in coins from his house Monday.

Deputies reported that burglars stole an axe, saw and several candy bars from the snack bar at Camp Lilienthal on Bolinas Road above Fairfax Wednesday.

ALUMNUS OF YEAR — Carlos R. Freitas will be honored as Alumnus of the Year by Saint Mary's College, Moraga, California, on the college's annual Homecoming Day, Sunday. Unity Talks On Mixed Marriages

VATICAN CITY (UPI) —Roman Catholic and Angelican church leaders have agreed to give sympathetic consideration to ways of solving problems that arise in the upbringing of children of mixed marriages, it was announced today.

A Vatican announcement said particular consideration would be given to the problems arising when a Catholic's pledge to rear his children as Catholics is "unacceptable to the non-Roman Catholic party on the grounds of conscience."

It did not indicate, however, that the Catholic Church was prepared to lift its requirement that the children of a mixed marriage be reared as Catholics.

The Vatican announcement said the problem of mixed marriages was discussed at a three-day meeting which ended April 18 at St. George's House, Windsor Castle, England.

Five leaders of each church, including two Americans, took part in the meeting, the first session of the joint Anglican-Roman Catholic Subcommission on Mixed marriages.

The Vatican has been moving for some time toward changes in its stand on mixed marriages as a means of helping to promote Christian unity.

The announcement said the question arose at the meeting whether a Roman Catholic morally can enter into a mixed marriage if the duty to rear children as Catholics would create problems endangering the unity of the family.

Handicapped? Not These Bowlers

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

The average bowling enthusiast has to watch his stance, approach and follow-through.

On the other hand, people like Mrs. Josephine Hendricks of Novato and Mrs. Virginia Sievers of Terra Linda have to watch their brakes.

If the brakes are not fully applied, their wheelchairs will swing around and turn over. To members of the Marin chapter of Indoor Sports, a club for handicapped people, it is just another hazard to learn to live with.

Hollis Bovia of Novato has no problem with a wheelchair. He can deliver the bowling ball from a standing position but can never explode with the joy of seeing a strike, which he frequently makes. Bovia is all but totally blind.

Many of the 34 members of the Marin chapter bowl every Tuesday afternoon at Nave Lanes, Novato, principally for three reasons: to keep them out and about, to prove anything an able-bodied person can do, they can do also, and for the pure love of bowling.

It's probably the first of these reasons that is the most important.

HELPING HAND — Mrs. Frances Tryon, a member of Good Sports, gives a helping hand to Indoor Sports member Mrs. Beverly Callahah as she makes ready to bowl at Nave Lanes in Novato.

AWAY SHE GOES — Past president of Marin County chapter of Indoor Sports, Howard Taylor, delivers his bowl from a wheelchair during a Tuesday work out at the lanes. As well as playing together, members have social get-togethers at Terra Linda Recreation Center. (Independent-Journal photos)

"Too many handicapped people sit around in the chimney corner," said Mrs. Hendricks, president of the chapter and executive secretary of the Indoor Sports' Northern California district. "They are frightened of going out and about because of people looking at them. The club changes all that."

It changed the life of Mrs. Bernice Wright of Novato, paralized down the left side of her body in an auto accident eight years ago.

"I didn't go out in public for a whole year," she said. "I felt like some sort of freak. It comes as a shock to a person who is healthy and well one day, and half paralyzed the next."

Then she heard about Indoor Sports, joined it and can get around actively enough with the aid of a stick. She has to use a chair in order to bowl.

Pipe-smoking past president G. Howard Taylor of San Rafael, a victim of multiple sclerosis, could joke about it. "It's a pretty exclusive club," he said. "It's one you cannot get in very easily."

But he did make a appeal for more members and asked, too, for help in getting transportation for those members unable to drive their own cars.

The Marin Indoor Sports is in two bowling leagues, the Chapter League and Traveling League. Members won the Traveling League championship last year.

Hollis Bovia is 65 and has been almost totally blind for five years. He can discern only very bright lights.

A member of the Indoor Sports for eight months, he can bowl with uncanny accuracy. After delivery, he turns his back on the lane and walks away to await announcement of his score.

On one recent Tuesday, he demolished nine pins and was told the remaining one was in No. 10 position. His second ball caught it fair and square.

Why does he bowl if he can't see the pins? "I joined the club for companionship, I guess," he said.

In addition to bowling, the Indoor Sports run social get-togethers and business meetings at the Terra Linda Recreation Center at 8 p.m. on the second Wednesday of every month.

"It's more fun than a picnic," said Mrs. Sievers. Incidentally, members hold picnics too.

Mrs. Sievers was handicapped for 19 years with multiple sclerosis before she took up bowling. Like most members, she had never picked up a ball before joining the club.

The Indoor Sports depend a great deal on a group of able-bodied people who are called the Good Sports. These usually accompany the handicapped members to events, assisting with strong arms where it is difficult for a wheelchair to go.

The Good Sports are dedicated people who are always willing to accept new members to swell the ranks, said Mrs. Hendricks.

The Indoors Sports has become something of an institution among its members. The usual Tuesday bowling was postponed during Easter week and the absence was missed by members, including Walter Hughes of Kentfield, a victim of an industrial accident 44 years ago.

"I just wandered about, not knowing what to do with myself," he said. "It's a wonderful club."

Students At College Of Marin Rally Asked To Strike On War

About 500 College of Marin students rallied at the Student Center yesterday to hear Students Against War (SAW) members and others urge a stay-home-from-school-tomorrow strike in observance of an international protest of the Vietnam war.

The rally covered a variety of other matters also, however, ranging from the black man's problems in the United States to an admonition not to use foul language.

At the end of two hours, the attendance had dwindled to less than half, but student after student still took the occasion to present his or her views.

Philip Byrne, 19, chairman of SAW's stop-the-draft committee, said he called the rally as a part of an international effort by a "student mobilization committee" based in New York to keep students out of class all day tomorrow in protest against the war, racism, United States' draft policy, and to urge return of American troops from Vietnam.

"We've got this thing going Friday (tomorrow)," he told the students, "and we don't want anyone in school." He earlier told newsmen the effort was undertaken because "it's been proven in the past that student action has brought about changes in (government) policy."

Classes, however, are scheduled as usual tomorrow, college officials said.

The rally was opened by Pat Blake, college center student commissioner, who cited recent publicity of use of objectional language during a student meeting. He urged more acceptable language to lessen parental concern.

Walter Turner, member of the Black Students for Action, dec.ared, "We'd like to urge all students to take part in the strike." He also spoke on needs of his group, declaring a campus annex "or some type of facility in Marin City" should be provided by the college for studies there.

He said his group doesn't want violence or guerrilla warfare, "but that is what the black people must be ready for."

Russell Willliams, also of the Black Students for Action, called for cooperation and understanding of other students. He added, however, "The black people have a job to do, and the black is going to do it, with or without you."

A white student, Susan Ruskin, commented, "Somebody says a bad word and that's immoral. What about the immorality of the war in Vietnam?"

Another student announced that the psychology class of teacher Carter Hanner will hold a 7:30 p.m. meeting next Thursday in the faculty dining room of the center. The session is open to anyone wishing to discuss black-white problems.

Byrne, of 59 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, said SAW has about 40 members on the Kentfield campus.

Special Meeting Set In Tiburon

A special meeting of the Tiburon City Council has been called for 7:30 p.m. today at city hall to take action on two items.

Mayor William R. Bremer said today the council would act on a business license application pending for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad for a paid parking lot at Tiburon Boulevard and Main Street and on an offer received by the city for sale of reversionary rights to the railroad right-of-way on Tiburon Boulevard.

The offer is for a stretch of land from San Rafael Avenue to the Corte Madera city limits, Bremer said, but he did not disclose who the offer was from or the sale price.

Citizen Sees Petty Theft

George D. Mulvin, 18, of 8 Glenwood Avenue, Ross, was arrested yesterday on a citizen's complaint for alleged petty theft of two gallons of gasoline.

San Anselmo police said Donald A. Duerr, business manager of San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, reported he saw Mulvin siphoning gasoline from a car parked at Bolinas Avenue and Kensington Road about 10:30 a.m.

Duerr said he checked with the car's owner, Stella Mamalakis, 47 Glenwood Avenue, Ross, learned she had not given Mulvin permission, and made the arrest. Mulvin was released without bail from county jail pending a 1:30 p.m. hearing Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Ross police said the woman saw a young "hippie type" man, carrying a shovel, coming out of her garage when she drove into her driveway. The man dropped the shovel, ran to a car in which two other young "hippies" were sitting and drove away, she said. A check of the house revealed nothing had been disturbed.

Panelists See Second Campus One Cause Of College Of Marin Feud

Hot on the heels of the College of Marin controversy which climaxed yesterday with the resignation of Supt. Dr. William K. Ramstad, a planner, two faculty members and a board trustee today discussed one cause of it all — the proposed second campus at Novato.

Meeting on the Radio KTIM "Sounding Board," the panel succeeded in not once mentioning the name of Ramstad or the trustee resignations prompted by an alleged breakdown in communication between faculty and administration.

The nearest the hour-long program came to controversy was a question, telephoned by a listener, asking whether the faculty should not act more like employees than policy makers.

Those taking part were Dale A. Fleming, director of planning and research at the college's Kentfield campus; James D. Donlon Jr., chairman of the business and economics department; Samuel Schwartz, president of the academic senate, and Trustee Robert E. Rogers.

Panelists dug their heels in on their respective and previously reported views of the proposed projected growth at the college but Schwartz questioned the wisdom of going ahead without a year-long economic feasibility study.

"We may be holding on to a tiger's tail only to let go and see it fly apart on us," he said. "The senate is not opposed to a second campus but we are concerned with the cost."

The faculty was disturbed by rumors that educational facilities at Kentfield may be cut back to make the Novato campus possible, he said. In his opinion, a study could be carried out on the new campus economics without too great a hold up on planning and construction.

Trustee Rogers detailed the rapid growth of the Kentfield campus and the added confusion he said the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project might cause once it was underway.

LOGICAL LOCATION

From projections supplied to the district board, Novato had become the logical place in which to build another campus to the college, Rogers said.

Donlon also said the faculty was concerned with the timing of the Novato project. Alarm was felt when the faculty heard it was proposed to open a district office in Novato in preparation for the campus when "there is hardly enough money" for Kentfield.

AGAINST DELAY

Fleming noted that the present enrollment of 7,200 by 1980. He cautioned against a delay and said work should begin now towards opening the new campus.

In answer to the question on the employee-status of the faculty, Schwartz said that in education, the relationship has always been a case of one professional person working with another — with each playing a part in the whole.

Kitty Oppenheimer was the moderator of the program, a recording of which will be rebroadcast at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

Baar Headquarters

San Rafael campaign headquarters for Louis H. (Bud) Baar, supervisorial candidate, will open today with a reception from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. at Second and B streets, San Rafael.

Chesnut's Wife Files For Divorce

Thompson V. Chesnut, music director of the Ross School District and musical director for this year's Mountain Play production, was sued for divorce in Marin Superior Court yesterday by his wife of 26 years, Geraldine L. Chesnut.

Mrs. Chesnut accused her husband of cruelty and asked that she be awarded custody of their one minor child. They also have two grown daughters.

A founding member of the Marin Symphony Guild, Chesnut has composed two operas, "Emperor Norto" and "Abraham Lincoln." He has recorded with Dizzy Gillespie and Gunther Schuller and has appeared with both the San Francisco opera and symphony.

Chesnut, whose favorite jazz instrument is the French horn, has also been a soloist at the Monterey Jazz Festival.

Marijuana Charges To Superior Court

William Preston Sullivan, 20, of San Francisco, after a preliminary hearing yesterday in Marin Municipal Court, was held to answer on two charges that he sold marijuana in September 1966.

He was ordered to appear for arraignment May 6 in Superior Court.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KTVU (2), 8 p.m. — Larry King interviews Raymond Burr about his entertainment of American troops, his adoption of six orphans; and the masterminding of his own private zoo.

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 9 p.m. — "The CBS Thursday Night Movies' presents "Love Is a Ball," a sparkling comedy set on the French Riviera. Glenn Ford, Hope Lange and Charles Boyer star.

KQED (9), 9 p.m. — "NET Playhouse" presents "1984" Nigel Kneales' television adaption of George Orwell's novel projecting the dark period of the year 1984, when the last spark of human dignity will have been extinguished by international totalitarianism.

Rice Training Set In Hawaii For Americans

The training project, operated by the University of Hawaii, will be used to give basic instruction in rice production to Americans en route to Asia.

The rice facility will work closely with the International Rice Research Institute at Los Banos in the Philippines.

Seedlings are being raised and will soon be transplanted into 10 different plots that will show rice in all its growing stages from germination to harvest — and allow the trainees to study a full growing cycle in the two weeks they will spend on Kauai.

The first trainees arriving in March will be en route to Vietnam.

Aged Whisky

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — Twenty-one years ago Clem T. Harris buried a bottle of whisky at the foot of a plum tree in his backyard to celebrate the birth of his daughter. He dug up the bottle to celebrate the 21st birthday of his daughter — now Mrs. Colin Dunn. The label on the bottle was well-preserved — so were the contents.

Police Whistle Aids Exploration

HOMEWOOD, Ill. (AP) — Robert W. Donnelly, 21, a seaman apprentice stationed at Adak, Alaska, in the Aleutians, and son of the Robert Donnellys of Homewood, is getting a helping hand from home.

Robert Junior wrote that he was cautioned by military authorities not to roam alone through the volcanic islands because the treeless terrain is pitted with dangerous potholes, causing many GI's to become lost.

Robert's father said he sent his son a police whistle. In case he got trapped, the sailor could pipe his way home.

Theater Crooks' Honest Thirst

They ripped a hole in the wall, wrecked and burglarized the safe, tore down doors and damaged office furnishings in their search for loot.

Evidently tired by all that activity, the crooks moved to the soft drink machine. The key was on top of the machine but the intruders disregarded it and dropped in enough money for four drinks. The empties were found on the machine the following morning.

Gun Legislation Approved Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday approved—for the second time—a limited version of the Johnson Administration's proposal to control the sale of firearms.

The committee reaffirmed its action of April 6 to make gun control legilation part of the administration's safe streets and crime control act.

The gun control section would ban the mail order sales of handguns; prohibit the receipt of any firearms in violation of state laws; ban the over-the-counter sale of handguns to out-of-state residents, and limit the sale of handguns to persons 21 or over.

Blood Insurance Approval Sought

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Supreme Court has been asked to determine if it is legal to sell blood insurance in the state.

The insurance commissioner turned down an application by the Blood Service Plan of Phoenix to sell Californians the insurance, which pays the cost of medical blood transfusions.

However, the firm appealed and a lower court in Los Angeles overruled the insurance commissioner, contending he acted outside of his jurisdiction. The Supreme Court now must rule on the case.

Convertible Taken

His 1965 white Porsche convertible was stolen last night, Dick York of 5 Gordon Street, Sausalito, told police yesterday. The car's license was NJM 727.

Poll Shows Reagan's Performance Liked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A majority of Californians still approve of Ronald Reagan's performance as governor, the State Poll indicates, but the margin has slipped slightly.

The poll, conducted by Don M. Muchmore, found 51 per cent of the voters approving of the way Reagan is handling his job, against 53 per cent in both March and September 1967.

Get Out That Ol' Pole; Season's Almost Here

GONE FISHIN' — That sign will be prominently displayed throughout the state Saturday when the 1968 trout season becomes legal, and right here in Marin there'll be an army of an estimated 5,000 rod and reelers angling for the wily little critters.

If you have a young'un who has never experienced the thrill of catching a trout then I suggest you take him to Lagunitas Lake or Rodeo Lagoon. The sovereign and philanthropic State of California just this week planted thousands of fish in those waters and it should provide for easy pickings. In fact, if you don't have a limit of 10 by noon you'll be drummed out of the Isaac Walton League with a fishhonorable fishcharge.

License, Stamps And Permits

If you fish any of the Marin Municipal Water District lakes it'll cost you $8. That's $5 for a state license and two stamps plus $3 for a season-long MMWD permit.

But don't gripe at the price because the state spends a lotta loot on your angling enjoyment. Good old Uncle Cal — the big spender from the west — pays about 25 cents for each fish planted. So, you see, there's gold in them thar gills.

Also, for the opening of the season, I'd advise you to get to your favorite fishin' hole bright and early (the season officially opens at 4:20 a.m. and fish fast. Surveys in past years showed that a plant of 10,000 fish was depleted in three days. On opening day the angling army removed 7,000; the second day 2,600 wound up in the frying pan and the remainder of the 10,000 went the third day.

There'll Be Some More

But don't worry. Good old Uncle Cal replenishes the supply periodically throughout the season.

While Lagunitas and Rodeo should provide quantity, larger "quality" fish may be hauled out of Alpine and Kent lakes, leftovers from previous plants. The state had planned to plant a bunch of piscine two-bit pieces in Bon Tempe this week, but postponed it because the MMWD is treating that body of water with copper sulphate as an algaecide.

While soapboxing on one of his favorite subjects State Game Warden Al Giddings of Marin advised parents to take their young 'uns to Lagunitas or Rodeo. Besides the jackpot planted there, those lakes are small, round and easy to fish. "Long lakes like Alpine and Kent," he added, "are not good because the fish move back into inaccessible areas and are difficult to reach. After all, we plant these fish to be caught. And the banks at Alpine and Kent are too steep and quite dangerous for children."

And There's Papermill Creek

For the stream buffs, Papermill Creek should provide plenty of action, though the fish are small, said Giddings, the J. Edgar Hoover of our fields and streams.

Meanwhile, the Department of Fish and Game says that if crowds bother you, why not try Nicasio Lake where black bass, blue gill, red ear sunfish, crappie and catfish have been biting lately. A 5-year-old won't know the difference between a rainbow and crappie.

Anyway, wherever you go, behave yourselves. No naughty-naughties like taking overlimits, fishing too early or late or without a license or using more than one rod, because J. Edgar Giddings and a staff of wardens will be on the job. And they always get their man.

Now, if you'll all join me in a rousing chorus of "Somewhere Over The Rainbow," let's go fishin'.

Lakers Even Series

BOSTON (UPI)—The Boston Celtics, who think they invented pro basketball defense, will try to adjust theirs for the weekend in a bid to shut off two Los Angeles scorers.

But whether defensive genius Bill Russell can come up with a system that will cool Jerry West and Elgin Baylor remains to be seen as the National Basketball Association's championship finals shifted to the West Coast for games tomorrow night and Sunday.

"WE'LL CHANGE"

"We'll change our defensive structure a bit," player-coach Russell said after the Lakers had grabbed a 123-113 victory at Boston Garden last night to deadlock the best-of-seven finals at one win apiece.

Russell's defensive changes usually involve his rival's leading scorers. And since West posted 35 points and Baylor netted 23 more, they can expect to bear the brunt of the adjustments for games three and four of the series.

HUSTLE

"They won on hustle, mostly," Russell said after the defeat at Boston which broke a four-game Celtic win streak including an unprecedented comeback from a 1-3 deficit to knock defending champion Philadelphia out of the Eastern finals.

Bill van Breda Kolff, coach of the Lakers, was in an understandably jovial mood even though he had been nailed for a technical foul in the game to the delight of the Boston partisans.

Baylor sat out 18 minutes of the game after picking up four fouls in the first half and his fifth midway in the third period.

42.6 CLIP

The final statistics showed that the Celtics hit on 42.6 per cent from the floor with John Havlicek showing the way with 24 points.

But Tom Hawkins, with 19 points, and Archie Clark with 17 backed the West-Baylor one-two punch and assured the two teams of at least a fifth game in Boston next Tuesday night.

Negroes Laud Cal Coach Selections

BERKELEY (AP) — Negro athletes, who threatened to boycott all sports at the University of California, today are praising the elevation of freshman coach Jim Padgett to head basketball coach and appointment of Negro Earl Robinson as his assistant.

But they reserved judgment on the football situation, where they had demanded in their eight-point ultimatum the discharge of two coaching aides, Bill Button and Joe Marvin.

Bobby Smith, spokesman for the black athletes group of 40 when their demands were made in mid-basketball season, said, "I was very glad to hear" of the coaching appointments.

Smith, who said he no longer is the black athletes' spokesman, called the coaching changes "a very positive step. They are an indication of how Chancellor Roger W. Heyns feels. They show he took the matter in his own hands and didn't wait for a new athletic director to be named."

Athletic Director Pete Newell had resigned a month before Herrerias. He had reported his successor, yet to be named, would select the new basketball coach.

He called Padgett "sincere, honest; a coach who appreciates and understands our problems. We can talk with him and he'll help us."

Presley's reinstatement precipitated a walkout of white basketball players. They said Herrerias had been ordered by the administration to lift the suspension.

Heyns appointed an investigating committee, peace was restored and the basketball team jelled for its best season in years.

Trent Gaines, another sophomore basketball star, said Padgett knows all the players and is close to them. He said both white and black athletes were happy and were looking forward to next season.

Tennis Giant Killer Cox Strikes Again

Amateur Wallops Emerson

BOURNEMOUTH, England (AP) — Mark Cox, British amateur who yesterday elminited Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles, ousted Roy Emerson of Australia today 6-0, 6-1, 7-5 for his second victory over a professional in two days of open play.

CONFIDENT

Cox, full of confidence following his victory over Gonzales, varied his game from shot to shot, and Emerson had no answer to him. When the Australian did take chances, he missed his volleys and sent forehand drives over the baseline.

The Englishman kept up his supremacy throughout the second set. But in the third, Emerson came alive, and two superb passing shots gave him his first service break for a 2-1 lead.

Emerson went on to lead 4-1 but then Cox, placing his shots, forced his opponent into more errors and broke back with a superb forehand pass. That made it 4-2.

NAPPING

In the 10th game, Cox hit a great forehand service return and got level at 5-5. He held his service at love. In the next game, at 30-30, he caught Emerson napping with a fine backhand return and moved onto to match point. Emerson surrendered the match by tamely netting a forehand.

Cox would have won at least $600 if he had been playing for prize money, but he had already elected to settle for $120 expenses only.

Victories For Bucs, Cardinals

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jim Bunning made it home safely after a cold night in Pittsburgh but Curt Flood was turned away at the gate after a hot time in St. Louis.

Bunning posted his first pitching victory at home as a Pirate last night, subduing the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3 in frigid Forbes Field with late-inning relief help from Elroy Face.

Flood, the National League's hottest hitter, drove in five runs with two singles and a triple as the Cardinals slugged the Cincinnati Reds 7-0 — but failed to score for the first time in 13 games this year.

BAD WEATHER

Bunning, obtained by the Pirates in a winter trade with Philadelphia, yielded a three-run homer by Jim Lefebvre in the first inning and then blanked the Dodgers until the eighth, when he aggravated a pulled groin muscle and left the game.

The victory was Bunning's second of the young season against one setback. He beat the Dodgers 3-0 at Los Angeles, then lost to San Francisco 5-2 at home last Saturday before last night's struggle, which began in 43 degree weather and ended with the thermometer at 38.

CONCERNED

"After I win the first one, I don't think about where I'm pitching," said the 36-year-old right-hander, happy to get in out of the cold but somewhat concerned over the groin pull, sustained while he was pitching to Lefebvre in the eighth.

"I had a slight pull," he said. "I thought it was better, completely, but this cold weather is very difficult on you." He said

Redwood Golfers Top Santa Rosa

Redwood High School's golf team, led by Wayne Duerson, downed Santa Rosa High in a non-league match yesterday at the Oakmont Country Club near Santa Rosa.

Duerson fired a two-over-par 73. Other Redwood scorers were Nip Grey, 76; Ralph Bostick, 83; George Carewe, 84; and Ed Carewe, 86.

KILLY IS EIGHTH IN MONZA RACE

Jean-Claude Killy, the French Olympic ski champion, finished eighth in his second performance as a racing driver. He drove an official Porksche 11T.

Donaldson Is Hero In A's 4-3 Triumph

The A's second baseman singled to right field with the bases loaded in the 11th inning last night to give Oakland a 4-3 win over the New York Yankees and snap a five-game losing streak.

It was the second time this season that Donaldson has won an extra-inning home game for his team—the only games Oakland has won at home.

GETTING COLD

"I was getting cold out there," Donaldson said in the clubhouse. "I just went up there to try and hit the ball somewhere."

Manager Bob Kennedy said he felt that Bert Campaneris was a key man in the victory.

Campaneris' larceny also brought Oakland its first run. In the opening inning he reached first on an error, swiped second and scored on Reggie Jackson's single.

TIES GAME

In the third Oakland took a 2-1 lead on Jackson's double and Ramon Webster's single.

In the sixth New York regained the lead when Mantle walked and Tom Tresh doubled. Both scored on Roy White's hit.

But Oakland again came back to tie it 3-3 in the bottom of the frame. Rick Monday reached first on an error, went to third on a single by pinch hitter Floyd Robinson and was forced across the plate on walks to Jackson and Sal Bando.

WINNER

The winning pitcher was Jack Aker who worked the last five innings. Kennedy said that Aker would have come out of the game after one more inning had it gone any further.

Aker admitted he was tired. "I may have been able to go one more inning but that would be about all," he said.

Giants To Host Dodgers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco's Giants had their second day off in a row today—this one scheduled—as they prepared to play host to the Los Angeles Dodgers tomorrow night.

The Giants were rained out yesterday in Philadelphia and flew home from their first road trip of the season, four victories and three losses.

UNDECIDED

Facing the southpaw may be righthander Don Drysdale or Bill Singer—Los Angeles manager Walter Alston still having not yet announced his choice. Drysdale had a 3-3 record in his encounters with San Francisco last season while Singer was 1-2.

Sadecki, who held a 2-1 edge over the Dodgers last year, has won both his regular outings this spring and had registered six consecutive wins when 1967 play ended.

Giant fans will be seeing one of their former favorites — catcher Tom Haller—in a Los Angeles uniform for the first time. Traded to the Southern California club in late winter, Haller has been batting around .270 and has contributed one game-winning homer so far. He tagged 14 home runs and batted in 49 runs on a .251 average for the Giants last year.

TRADE

Haller was swapped for second baseman Ron Hunt and utility infielder Nate Oliver, who have been doing .211 and .200, respectively with their new club.

The Giants physically are in good shape except for catcher Jack Hiatt, still sore from a collision at the plate last week, and Hunt, who has an injured finger.

Another Bitter Blow For Fading McDaniel

Philadelphia — Lindy McDaniel wore a worried look. It was out of character for the man who normally wears a built in smile. Frown wrinkles creased McDaniel's forehead as he sat silently in the Pittsburgh Airport.

Bob Barton, one of McDaniel's teammates waiting with him for the plane that would take the Giants to Philadelphia for the last stop on their current road trip, made an effort to cheer up McDaniel.

"I called for the wrong pitches," said Barton who caught McDaniel in his first relief appearance of the new baseball season.

McDaniel, always a gracious gentleman even with a big personal problem on his mind, wouldn't let the young catcher assume any blame for his own failure to get out even one Pirate during a seven-run fourth inning rally at Forbes Field in the finale of a three-game series.

THE GAME already was lost by the time McDaniel appeared on the scene. But nobody knew for sure that Al McBean was going to shutout the Giants as he ultimately did. So Herman Franks summoned McDaniel to duty with the score 4-0 against Mike McCormick.

McDaniel's first pitch was lined to left field by Gene Alley. Jim Ray Hart mishandled the pickup. The last two runners McCormick had put aboard scored. Hart's error allowed one of them to score. But that became inconsequential after McDaniel's second pitch. Roberto Clemente belted it for an inside-the-park homer.

WILLIE STARGELL hit McDaniel's fourth pitch for another homer. McDaniel then walked Donn Clendenon. When Bill Mazeroski, fifth man to face McDaniel, drilled a liner to left Franks stopped the action. The manager of the Giants sent Charlie Fox to the mound and the coach took the ball away from McDaniel and gave it to Ron Herbel who finally got the side out.

Franks confidence in McDaniel's ability to do the relief job that once was routine for Lindy seemed to be shaken this spring. And there was good reason for Franks' fading confidence. McDaniel, plagued by a torn back muscle last season, was tormented by an ailing elbow in training camp.

NEVERTHELESS, Franks made his own decision to keep McDaniel on the pitching staff although he knew that he needed only nine pitchers for the opening weeks of the 1968 season because of the way the schedule was set up with an unusual number of days off.

Furthermore, Franks felt that McDaniel might recapture his fast ball and fork ball magic once the team got out of Arizona where the light air makes it difficult for pitchers. The light air of the Cactus League creates insufficient friction for curves.

THE TIPOFF, however, that Franks was reluctant to use McDaniel in critical relief roles came in the first week of the season. Franks five times assigned the role of stopper to Frank Linzy in the initial seven games.

McDaniel was a forgotten man until last Sunday. Then, in a game that already was lost—or certainly seemed that way—he got his first relief assignment of 1968. And it wasn't a very happy one for McDaniel who once was among the National League's top relief specialists.

PREP NOTES

Redwood Has Quite A Sophomore Star

By GARY TISCHLER

And there is Wayne Horiuchi.

He has competed on the varsity level in dual meets, then set something of an unofficial busy record as a Bee at the Santa Rosa Relays last week. In either case, he has been more than excellent.

He holds the best time in the county in the mile with a 4:31.7, which is pretty good for a sophomore. Last year he was a cross-country star for the Redwood varsity and an ace as a two-miler in Class B.

At the Santa Rosa relays he ran an excellent 4:34.5 in the mile, then turned in three 440s of 54.8, 53.0 and 53.9 within the space of less than two hours.

Redwood coach Tony Bailey is sure Wayne could turn in a sub-ten minute two-mile effort. But the Giants have needed him elsewhere this season, and so far he hasn't been able to compete in that long distance race.

WHILE YOU'RE thinking about the Santa Rosa Relays, it is interesting to note that Marin County pole vaulters took both first spots in the varsity and Class B events, setting meet records in the process.

Rick Earhart of San Rafael set a meet record (and county best) of 12-9½ in the varsity and Mike Wurtz of Redwood set a meet record of 11-8 in the Class B version of the same event.

There's been a lot of talk about the heralded duels between Redwood and Tamalpais in the track race this year, but if you take a look at the standings, Novato's still undefeated and Terra Linda is coming up.

AN 8-7 WIN over Tamalpais may not look like an exciting pitching effort, but the Tuesday victory by Novato's Hornets did prove that Novato has another pitcher besides Russ Dillon.

MARIN CATHOLIC hurler Mark Carbone came back pretty well from that unnerving loss to Redwood last week, by downing San Rafael, 2-1.

ON THE FROSH level, Tamalpais coach Al Ahlsten will be looking forward to next year. His Indians are noticeably short on pitching but they may not be when Bill Johnson joins his staff next year.

Tamalpais is still unbeaten, Novato has lost twice despite the presence of Ray Leach and Redwood is threatening. Just another blow for pre-season predictions, which is something you should give up at New Year's parties.

Gene Alley reached first on an error by Dodgers shortstop Zoilo Versalles in the sixth inning, moved around on Roberto Clemente's single and a ground out and scored the tie-breaking run on Bill Mazeroski's second sacrifice fly of the game.

KNOT SCORE

The Pirates had pushed over three runs in the fourth, tying it 3-3. Alley tripled and scored on an infield out. Center fielder Willie Davis dropped Willie Stargell's long fly for a three-base error; Donn Clendenon walked and Mazeroski's first sacrifice fly sent home Stargell before Manny Mota's run-scoring single capped the rally.

Flood stroked a two-run single in the second inning, singled another run across in the sixth and lashed a two-run triple in the eighth as the Cardinals breezed to their third straight victory behind the five-hit pitching of Ray Washburn.

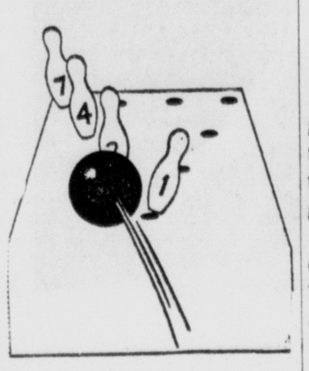
BOWLING TIPS

MARION LADEWIG



There are a lot of ways to miss "the fence" — th eNos. 1, 2, 4, 7 pins. If you have bowled a while, this will not be news at all. Don't try hitting the headpin on the right side in the hopes of a "domino" reaction, even though this will occasionally happen. Instead, raise your percentage of spares on this shot by moving your starting position well to the right and try to brush all of the pins with the ball.

Ex-Giant Miller Cut By Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Atlanta Braves announced yesterday they would grant an unconditional release to relief pitcher Stu Miller.

Miller, 40, has been in baseball since 1952 and was purchased from Baltimore in the American League this spring after he finished last season with a 3-10 record, his worst in the majors. He formerly pitched for San Francisco.

This would leave the Braves with one vacancy on their 25-man roster, and there were no indications when it might be filled.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Indians Cool Detroit's Hot Streak

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Steve Hargan was twice as good as Clyde Wright and neither was very good for the batting averages of the Detroit Tigers and Washington Senators.

Hargan hurled a brilliant one-hitter last night as Cleveland ended Detroit's nine-game winning streak, 2-0. A couple of hours later, Wright gave up two hits, pitching California to a 6-1 victory over Washington.

In other American League games, Baltimore ripped Minnesota 7-3 and Oakland tripped New York 4-3 in 11 innings.

SORE ELBOW

Hargan faced only 28 batters, permitting just two walks and Jim Northrup's leadoff single in the third. He struck out seven but didn't feel as good as he hoped he would.

"I don't think my arm is strong yet," he said. "I'm not able to throw my curve," he continued, soaking his right elbow in ice a la Sandy Koufax.

Whatever Hargan was throwing was enough to throttle the Tigers, who hadn't lost since opening day. He also scored Cleveland's second run of the game when left fielder Willie Horton and shortstop Ray Oyler collided under his pop fly in the seventh inning and the ball fell for a triple. Leon Wagner's pinch single drove in the run.

Horton was carried off the field on a stretcher and preliminary examination showed he had suffered a concussion. He was taken to Shaker Medical Center for further examinations.

ROUGH START

Wright didn't look like he'd survive the first inning against the Senators. He walked the leadoff batter, surrendered a single to Hank Allen and then walked the next two hitters, forcing in a run.

But then, with the bases still loaded and none out, he struck out the side and then allowed just two more runners the rest of the way.

Home runs by Roger Repoz and Paul Schaal gave the Angels the lead and then Schaal and Bob Rodgers each singled home two more runs in the late innings to wrap it up.

Baltimore pitcher Jim Hardin unloaded a two-run triple tying the game and then Dave May's double drove him in with the lead run as the Orioles battered Dean Chance and beat the Twins.

LUCKY BOUNCE

But Baltimore needed a lucky bounce to escape a sixth inning jam. The bases were loaded with two out when reliever Eddie Watt uncorked a pitch that sailed over the head of Cesar Tovar, the Minnesota batter.

Ted Uhlaender, the runner at third, started jogging home. But the ball took a hard carom off the concrete backstop and bounced right back to catcher Elrod Hendricks, who tagged Uhlaender out, ending the threat.

Good To Excellent Prospects For North Cal Trout Opener

STEVENS

Starting tomorrow there will be an exodus of the angling fraternity of the Bay Area, heading off to the hinterlands for Saturday's opening of the California trout season.

Most anglers know where they're going but there are many who can use some data on the more likely spots. A late release from the Resources Agency of California reports on some areas that promise good to excellent results, provided there is no stormy weather to foul things up.

This report indicates you will have an excellent chance of getting your share of trout in Northern California.

AMONG THE outstanding waters are Deer and Lassen creeks in Tehama County, and Lewiston and Clair Engle lakes in Trinity County.

In Siskiyou County, the Sacramento River above Shasta Lake, Juanita and Orr lakes, McCloud Reservoir and the McCloud River all are rated excellent.

Baum Lake and Hat Creek in Shasta County also get top rating, ditto Dodge Reservoir in Lassen County and Fee, West Valley, Bayley Reservoirs and Reservoir "C" in Modoc County.

EAGLE LAKE in Lassen County should be fair to excellent. The Eagle Lake Road should be cleared of snow by the opener. Anglers are cautioned to observe closures on Wooley and Hancock in Siskiyou County, which are closed to all fishing; and Bogus Creek and tributaries and Beaver Creek and tributaries, also in Siskiyou County, closed until May 24. The Trinity tributary streams to Whiskeytown Reservoir are closed until May 25. The Trinity River is closed from the mouth of the New River to the mouth of South Fork Trinity River until May 25.

Davis, Lake Antelope and Frenchman reservoirs in Plumas County should be outstanding for the opener, but you are cautioned that facilities will be limited at Davis, the newest of the three state reservoirs.

Other top prospects include French Meadows Reservoir in Placer County and Salt Springs Reservoir in Amador County. Hell Hole Reservoir in Placer County will be opening with the regular season for the first time this year.

Generally all central Sierra waters shuold be better than average for opening day fishing, and the mountain lakes should be open to 8,000 feet. Anglers are reminded that the Feather River is closed between the Thermalito Afterbay outlet and the Fish Barrier Dam outlet at Oroville.

A BIG OPENING day is expected at Lake Merced in San Francisco, which has some two to four-pound holdover fish from past plants as well as this year's stocked catchable size trout.

One caution to all who fish in the higher altitudes: Take along your rain clothes as it may rain, snow or sleet at any odd time in the high country, even though it is clear in the lowlands.

Stock Car Races In Vallejo Saturday

Time trials get underway at 7 p.m., followed by heat racing at 8 p.m. Gates at the Vallejo Speedway open at 5 p.m.

Eleven Marin Anglers Capture Derby Prizes

Eleven Marin anglers won prizes in the first Fishing Derby sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Southern Marin.

The derbies, a monthly affair awarding prizes by weight and type caught, are designed to raise funds for youth activities and civic projects and will run through November.

Hank Schramm of Novato, Henry Carlson of Mill Valley, Chester Golonska of Novato and John Krahl of Tiburon all won prizes for salmon. Schramm's 25 lb., two ounce catch topped the list.

E. H. Alten of Fairfax, Gordon Hasler of San Rafael, Art Soares of San Rafael, and Robert Thorsen of San Anselmo were winners in the striper division, as Alten's 37 lb. catch was the best in the derby.

Robert Trenchard of San Rafael took third in the sturgeon competition, landing an 85-lb. specimen, while Maxford Wolf and James Moore, both of Novato, were consolation winners, Wolf in the salmon class, Moore in stripers.

Lenny Moore To Join CBS Television Crew

The 12-year veteran will retire from the Baltimore Colts to join the staff of Columbia Broadcasting System.

Moore, the No. 1 draft choice out of Penn State by the Colts in 1955, was named All-NFL five times and to the East-West Game seven times.

He began his NFL career on the right flank where he had much success. He was switched to running back in 1961 and is eighth with 113 touchdowns among all-time NFL players.

Quarry, Ellis Winding Up Their Drills

OAKLAND (AP)—Two heavyweight title contenders, Jerry Quarry of California and Jimmy Ellis of Kentucky put in easy finishing drills today for their 15-round fight Saturday night for the World Boxing Association championship.

The nationally televised (Bay Area blacked out) fight is the final of the WBA series to determine a successor for Cassius Clay's vacated title. It will be held in the Oakland Arena.

Johnny Flores, co-owner of the 22-year-old Quarry who is from Bellflower, Calif., said today that his youngster was in great condition.

"Jerry weighs about 195, which is about where we want him," said Flores, who has been instrumental in developing Quarry as a heavyweight contender since he spotted him as a rising and eventual Golden Gloves amateur champion in 1964.

Angelo Dundee, manager of the 28-year-old Ellis, seems equally impressed with the conditioning program of his man. Dundee was not too definite, but he said he figured Ellis, the former sparring partner of Clay, would come in at about 196 pounds.

Ellis has among other things going for him the fact that he has six children and a wife to support. Quarry has only one youngster.

Mrs. Bowman In Semifinals

Mrs. Lyle Bowman of Terra Linda took another giant stride toward her fourth consecutive California State women's amateur golf championship yesterday at Fresno.

Representing the Richmond Country Club, Mrs. Bowman defeated Mrs. Irving Knight of Los Angeles, 4 and 2, in the quarterfinals.

Pete Tountas Wins Masters Bowl Tourney

CINCINNATI (AP) — Lanky Pete Tountas staged a dramatic comeback yesterday to win the American Bowling Congress Masters Tourney Championship by whipping Buzz Fazio in two successive matches.

The 29-year-old kegler from Tucson, Ariz., knocked into the losers' division of the double elimination tournament by Fazio, avenged the earlier setback by nudging Fazio in the final series 847-843.

Fazio, a 60-year-old Detroit pro who had won the winner's division of the tourney, but dropped the first four-game block to Tountas, jumped out to a 50-pin lead after the first two games of the final set.

Fazio rolled 208 and 233 compared to Tountas' 181 and 210. But Tountas, a Greek immigrant, rallied to shoot 232 and 224 to Fazio's 199 and 203. Tountas put together four-straight strikes late in the final game and that proved to be the deciding edge.

The championship was worth more than $4,000 to Tountas who posted a 9-1 record in the tourney in which eliminations started Monday. Fazio, clearly the favorite of the crowd, went 6-2.

Tountas beat Fazio in the first four-game block by 882-821.

Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., who dropped a series to Tountas earlier in the night that decided the top man in the loser's bracket, finished third in the tourney.

Great Comeback By New Orleans In ABA Playoff

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Coach Babe McCarthy said yesterday his New Orleans Buccaneers deserved to beat the Pittsburgh Pipers 109-101 after coming from as far back as 18 points.

The Buccaneers took a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven American Basketball Association championship playoffs. The two teams meet again tonight at Loyola Fieldhouse.

"This just goes to show you what a fired up team can do," said McCarthy. "Any time you can come from 18 points behind against a team like the Pipers you deserve to win."

New Orleans trailed the entire game until with less than two minutes left, then took the lead 102-101 on a jumper by James Jones. The Bucs then scored seven points to put the game out of reach.

It's Hard To Pick Favorite In Nelson Pro Golf Tourney

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The fact that 13 players have won the 15 tournaments this year on the PGA tour indicates why it is so difficult to establish a favorite in the $100,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic starting today over the 7,086-yard Preston Trail Course.

Ten of those fellows are here. Don January, the Dallas native who won the Tournament of Champions last week and is playing well, is considered little more than another in the pack. This despite the fact that he has played the course quite often.

The uncertainty of golf at this time, plus the fact that the field for the Nelson Classic is among the best ever gotten together, makes this tournament pretty wide open. Except that it has Jack Nicklaus, who hasn't won a tournament this year and which is quite out of character, champing at the bit.

Players who have won tournaments on the tour this year and are trying here are Johnny Pott, Kermit Zarley, Billy Casper, Arnold Palmer, Tom Weiskopf, Gardner Dickinson, Tony Jacklin, Bob Goalby, Steve Reid and January.

There also are nine former champions of the Dallas tournament, these including January and Pott. Others are Sam Snead, who won it three times before he started fading; Julius Boros, Earl Stewart, Billy Maxwell, Charles Coody, Roberto De Vicenzo and defending champion Bert Yancey.

Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael will also be trying for some of the money.

All the players claim the long, windy course is among the toughest. But already par 35-35—70 has been bettered six times, five coming in the pro-amateur Wednesday.

Dickinson carved a five-under-par 66 and was one stroke better than Tommy Aaron and Don Massengale, two strokes to the good over Bruce Crampton and three ahead of Coody.

Arnold Palmer is an attraction as usual but Arnie doesn't give the impression of one who's going to take the course in tow. He showed up with a hip ailment and said he was playing only because of Nelson, the great Texas golfer of the forties for whom the tournament was named.

Today is Thursday, April 25, the 116th day of 1968 with 250 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1846 the first shots of the Mexican War were fired.

In 1945 delegates to 46 nations gathered in San Francisco to organize a permanent United Nations.

A thought for the day: American poet Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "Every sweet has its sour, every evil its good."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

For Best Defense Take Good Reading Of Partner's Hand

"When in doubt, lead trumps," says the ancient bridge folklore. This is fine advice if you teach the game to children less than five years old. For anybody older, the word should be: "Lead trumps only when you know what you are doing."

WHEN IN DOUBT

East won the first trick with the ace of spades and couldn't think of anything to do. "When in doubt," he muttered, and he finished the quotation by returning the four of hearts.

South finessed with the queen, losing to the king. West returned a trump, but there was no way to stop the ruff. South won the second trump, ruffed a spade in dummy and returned to his hand with the king of clubs to draw the last trump.

South next took the top diamonds, hoping that the queen would fall. He then ruffed a diamond and led a low club, ducking in dummy. East had to play his ace; and South thus limited the club loss to one trick, making his contract.

ONLY ONE KING

It should have been obvious to East that his partner could have only one king at most. The opening lead indicated that West had four spades, and West was surely short in hearts. If West had two kings, he would have raised to two spades.

In view of this limit on West's strength, East's best chance to defeat the contract was to get a club ruff. At the second trick he should take the ace of clubs, and then he should lead the 10 of clubs. If West had the king of clubs, East would get his ruff at once.

DEFEAT ACTION

In the actual hand, declarer would win the second club in dummy and try a trump finesse. West would win with the king of hearts and lead a club, giving East the ruff and defeating the contract.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two diamonds. You cannot raise hearts energetically since partner may have only a four-card suit. Bid your own suit and await developments.

He Doesn't Hunt, Bags Two Deer

LUSK, Wyo. (AP) — Paul Percival, a Lusk area rancher, bagged two deer in a single day — and still didn't fire a shot.

En route home, Percival's car struck and killed another deer. The car wasn't damaged.

Stocks Up, Bouyed By Peace Hopes

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today in active trading.

Prices were buoyed from the start by hopes of progress toward agreement on a site for peace talks with North Vietnam. The early strength waned somewhat as nothing concrete developed, but the list still remained well ahead.

Among specially situated issues which showed strength were McDonnell Douglas, Crucible Steel and Newport News Shipbuilding.

Schenley and Lockheed were weak.

Schenley, off 2⅞ at 48¾; McDonnell Douglas, up 2 at 49⅞; Glen Alden, off ½ at 13⅝; Lockheed, off 2⅝ at 57¼; Crucible Steel, up 4¼ at 43; Lorillard, off 1¼ at 48¾; Tenneco, up ⅛ at 26½; and Newport News Shipbuilding, up 5⅛ at 61.

Gains outnumbered losses by some 250 issues on the New York Stock Exchange, and averages showed solid gains.

The market rose from the start as it responded to word that the United States had sent a new note to Hanoi in an effort to end the deadlock on selection of a site for peace talks. With no positive developments, enthusiasm waned, and early gains were trimmed.

Schenley, pacing the list on volume, dropped about 3 points on news that Lorillard had withdrawn from its contest with Glen Alden to acquire control of Schenley. Lorillard slipped about 1½, and Glen Alden took a fractional loss.

Newport News Shipbuilding held a gain of about 5 points on reports it was discussing merger with Tenneco, which traded about unchanged.

Lockheed slumped about 2½. It was regarded also as an unsuccessful contender for the airbus order

Rookie Free Swingers Frequently Strike Out

If the early stages of the National and American League baseball races seem a little tame, with neither Giants nor Athletics providing much excitement, one can always turn to the political primary races.

In these, as in baseball, we have free swingers. And no local candidate deserves that description more than Charles Clayton (Clay) Barham, 35-year-old Novatan who is challenging incumbent William T. Bagley for the Republican nomination for assemblyman from the Seventh District. Barham will swing at anything, and does.

He is also a spray hitter — you never can tell where he'll send the ball, although his campaign literature insists he hits only into right field.

BARHAM DESCRIBES HIMSELF as a "Real Republican" and says his primary opponent "has not upheld his party's ideals nor has he seen fit to support his party's team in Sacramento."

To document his claim, Barham made up a list of some of the bills in last year's Legislature, identifying them as Republican or Democrat and showing how Bagley voted on them and how he would vote on them. He showed Bagley voting for 33 Democrat bills and against only four, while Barham said he would have voted for only nine and against 44. (Bagley was not listed as voting on many of the bills Barham picked.)

However, although he listed Bagley as voting for 22 and against only one Republican bill on the list, Barham listed himself as for 20 and against 13 Republican bills. ("The incumbent has not seen fit to support his party's team.")

Nine members of Barham's sponsoring committee are registered as members of George Wallace's American Independent Party. Barham (spray hitting) makes this a virtue. He says his supporters come from all parties but all feel "that the Republican principles hold the key to our survival as a free people."

BARHAM'S FREE SWINGING is not limited to party matters. In a Petaluma speech, he opposed California constitutional revision because "even purging it of the insulating details of excess words at this time is dangerous." Then he said, "Just look what the federal people have done to our federal constitution!" (No "federal person" has ever removed a word from it.)

Decrying a U. S. Supreme Court decision that non-taxpayers can vote on bond issues (long the law in California), Barham suggested: "The only cure can come from electing men of courage and determination to . . . pass laws that will ride over the court's decisions." This is a new concept: laws to make constitutional what the court says is unconstitutional.

In a Sonoma speech, he complained that "for every dollar spent on law enforcement, 25 are spent on welfare and education." This, he said, is wrong — "cut out the free eyeglasses and pay policemen a living wage."

ALTHOUGH SO OUTSPOKEN on many things, Barham in his campaign literature identifies himself only as "executive secretary of a Marin-based national firm." The firm is Holiday Magic. We don't know why he is so reticent about it. Holiday Magic's head, William Penn Patrick, is also a Real Republican.

It's fun to watch Barham in action. But like so many rookie free swingers, he's inclined to strike out.

Spring training is still under way in the political races. And we expect that when the vote-casting managers cut the roster on June 4, Barham won't be kept on the team. The managers, we expect, will stick with the veteran who has proved he can handle the job in the Class A California League.

Callas—Water-Lovers

Although there is a small version of the calla which is native to the U. S., most of those growing in Marin, both in garden and wild, are dexcended from a South African bog plant. Sometimes called lilies, callas are not really true representatives of the lily clan.

Callas bloom about Easter in Marin. It is unfortunate that these lovely lilies have been spoiled for some people by their close association with funerals and death.

Callas are really an example of the vigor of life. All they require is a wet or boggy spot and they will thrive and spread for generations.

Can Peaceful World Police Itself?
U.S.-British 'Game' Seeks Answer

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UPI) — Someday the world may be at peace. When that great day comes the United States wants to be ready.

This summer American inspection teams will pretend that all the great powers have agreed on a treaty limiting the levels of conventional forces.

In a vast exercise involving 30,000 British soldiers and covering 2,000 square miles of England, the teams will try to establish a method of quickly determining whether any nation is violating the treaty.

THE OPERATION is known as "First Look." The United States and Britain have extended open invitations to all countries of the Soviet bloc and all members of the 18-nation Geneva Disarmament Committee to send observers.

The inspection teams, mostly American officers, will use aerial photography and electronic devices —such as "sensors" which can pickup military traffic from vehicle exhausts and vibrations —to check whether troops movements are within treaty terms.

The inspectors will tour the bases set up by the British troops —and some of the troops will try to hoodwink them by slipping away to reinforce other bases.

Out of this game of hide-and-seek may come the word that control is practicable —or impossible.

THE U.S. IS PAYING most of the cost of the $3 million experiment. But Anglo-American officers engaged in setting it up consider this a miniscule price for the possible knowledge to be acquired.

If there is ever world agreement on the level of troops and equipment, such as tanks and planes, permitted each country there will have to be some form of inspection, presumably by specialists under United Nations control.

Organizers of "First Look" hope that a blueprint for the work of these specialists will emerge. In charge of the operation is Brig. Paul Ward of the United Nations, who started work on the project in Washington and has now set up headquarters at Newbury near London for the start of the exercise in June.

Computers will analyze the information sent in by the teams of inspectors. A report will be compiled for study by Anglo-American experts.

IN THAT BETTER world of the future, U.N. inspectors would be able to knock down immediately rumors of an arms buildup which might otherwise set off a chain reaction of rearmament.

Or they might pinpoint a violation before it explodes into a threat to peace.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Position Of CSBA On Closed Meeting Bills

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On March 26, 1968, in your "Today's Editoral" you condemned the California School Boards Association for advocating executive sessions of the board of education with teacher associations in carrying out the mandate of the Winton Act.

Your editorial completely misstates the position of the California School Boards Association. At the delegate assembly meeting of the California School Boards Association in San Francisco in December, 1967, the matter was debated at great length and it was the vote and decision of the assembly not to introduce legislation which would seek to permit such executive sessions with teacher groups. It is true that many local school boards throughout the State are in strong support of such action, but this does not represent at this time the official position of the California School Boards Association or a majority of the school boards throughout the state.

You suggest at the conclusion of your article that, "It is time the California School Boards Association woke up to that fact." The fact being public opposition to executive sessions for school boards. The California School Boards Association would like to suggest that it is time you and your paper woke up to the fact that prior to condemning an organization of responsible, elected public officials, you should ascertain the true facts upon which you base your editorial comments.

I would appreciate your publishing this letter.

JOSEPH M. BROOKS
Executive Secretary,
C.S.B.A.
Sacramento

Letters to "What Our Readers Say" customarily are run without comment, or with a short editor's note where some explanation seems necessary. However, the accompanying letter from Joseph M. Brooks, executive secretary of the California School Boards Association, is of such nature that it demands a different treatment.

The editorial to which Brooks refers concerned two bills in the California Legislature — AB 961 (Stull) and SB 592 (Burgener) — which would permit closed meetings of school boards in connection with teacher negotiations.

Here is the position of the California School Boards Association on such legislation:

During interim hearings of the Assembly Education Committee, the CSBA testified in support of legislation to do just what the Stull and Burgener bills propose. This is attested to by Gil Oster, committee consultant. He referred to Stull's bill, which was heard in committee Tuesday, as "CSBA's bill."

LeRoy Lowrey, consultant to the Senate Education Committee, reported he has been told "by several representatives of the CSBA, on more than one occasion" that it supports such legislation.

California Teachers Association and CSBA lobbyists are in very close contact in Sacramento. The CTA Legislative Letter of March 19, reporting introduction of Stull's bill, said: "These are amendments to the 1965 Winton Act which the California School Boards Association announced prior to the beginning of this session that they would seek."

As to Brooks' assertion that "many local school boards throughout the state are in strong support of such action":

The Cajon Valley Union School District Board in San Diego County (home county of both Assemblyman John Stull and Sen. Clair M. Burgener, authors of the two bills) circularized school boards throughout California seeking support for such a measure. However, when Burgener submitted materials in support of his bill to the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee, to which it was referred, he was able to list only four school districts in support — three in San Diego County and one in Los Angeles County.

Act Understandable To Less-Educated

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In response to your editorial of April 17th entitled "For Sheer Confusion, Try Economic Opportunity Act."

Among those who work and sympathize with the effort being made to fight the War on Poverty, I have heard the Economic Opportunity Act as updated by the so-called Greene amendment referred to as the "Finnegans Wake" of public law. So your comments on this legislative masterpiece are not entirely without justification.

I would like to point out, however, that I have heard interpretations of the Greene amendments from people with less than eighth grade educations that displayed a much deeper and more comprehensive understanding of them than has the editor of your esteemed newspaper.

Thanks To Police For Flag Arrest

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Many, many thanks to our Mill Valley Police Department for listening to our pleas in regards to the hippie who was wearing our flag as wrappings around his legs. Three years ago I complained to many at City Hall, American Legion about a family on Lovell Avenue who were using our flag as curtains in their front windows. Weren't any of these people ever taught the proper uses and ways of our flag?

Maybe this could be a subject in schools again, though many don't salute the flag any more today. Today it's spat on, burnt and worn, though many, many men have died for it.

Again, many thanks to Mill Valley police.

Another maddening sight to me is to see the Mill Valley depot plastered with non-essential posters and signs. It cost the taxpayers of Mill Valley $3.000 to paint that building, yet since it was painted every week there is either a freedom sign, a Felix sign, etc. Also people clutter up sidewalk with card tables and people crowd corner. If people want signs let them put them in their windows, cars, or pay for paper advertising; don't use public buildings for billboards.

Also see that the Friday night children keep streets clear of litter so our downtown streets at least can be clean on weekends.

Mrs. ISABEL HINES
Mill Valley.

A STORY PERSISTS, though its authenticity is questionable, that when the great Darwin announced his theory of evolution, Mrs. Darwin was heard to murmur, "Descended from apes! My dear man! Let us pray that it is not true, and if it is true, that not a soul will hear of it!"

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Johnson Needs His New Freedom To Prevent Phony Settlement

WASHINGTON — The impatient attacks by Vietnam critics on President Johnson show one thing above all else.

They show what a crucial contribution Mr. Johnson made to the steadiness of the government of the United States by freeing himself from election-year politics.

And he did it at a time when steadiness — and detachment from political motive — can make the difference between successful peace and calamity.

IT IS EVIDENT that the North Vietnamese Communists are testing the fiber and firmness of Lyndon Johnson exactly as the North Korean Communists tested Harry Truman.

President Truman, who in 1951 had not removed himself from renomination, gave in to the Communists on the ground it would look as though he were holding up the talks unnecessarily. Truman went along with their demand to have the peace negotiations conducted on Communist-held territory. The result was that the U. S. delegation had to be escorted to the first meeting under Communist military guard in vehicles flying white flags of surrender and, on arrival, found itself seated a foot below the Communists.

This time, free of political pressures, President Johnson is not yielding even to such trivial maneuvers. There is good reason why Vietnam talks should be in a neutral capital where neither side would be advantaged.

It is easy to see why Hanoi would try to repeat the Korean maneuver, but it is hard to see why Americans should be harassing the president with the false argument that he is "rebuffing" Hanoi and is stalling in getting talks going when he is trying to get them under way under circumstances genuinely fair to both sides.

AT THIS POINT Johnson's freedom from political encumbrances adds a new dimension to his ability to remain steady, cool and firm. He doesn't have to worry about pleasing the hawks and he doesn't have to appease the doves. He can make reasonable concessions to North Vietnam and he can refuse a settlement which would mean putting the Hanoi Communists in control of the Saigon government.

He can be flexible or inflexible, as circumstances require, without even being tempted to weigh how his decisions might affect his renomination or re-election. He can do at every turn what he thinks best for the United States—and that is exactly what he intends to do.

This is the great gift which Lyndon Johnson has made to the office of President of the United States at a moment when a false move by the U. S. could imperil the peace of all Southeast Asia and when the right decisions can fortify the peace.

He knew he was in trouble with the American voters. But he knew it was more than likely that he would be renominated and entirely possible he would be re-elected. But he withdrew and said it was "irrevocable." No wonder this man is today demonstrating a special kind of poise and tranquility and detachment—unconcerned when he is branded a "haggler" by his Vietnam critics because he supports a conference site allied to neither side. It is a fair judgment that if Hanoi does not want to meet in a neutral capital it is not interested in serious negotiations under any circumstances.

IT SHOULD BE understood that, as the president views it, he is not reversing his course in Vietnam or altering his objective. He has always sought to bring Hanoi to the conference table. He carried out a 37-day bombing pause to induce Hanoi to talk and Hanoi refused. Now he is carrying out a partial cessation of bombing to see if Hanoi will agree to a reciprocal de-escalation so that all bombing can be stopped.

The man who gave up running for a second term in order better to pursue the cause of peace in Asia is not going to put his name to a phony settlement. But he will need all his new freedom to prevent it.

Juveniles Subject To Law, But Also To Censorship

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just last May the Supreme Court made chopmeat of the idea that juvenile court judges are a sort of substitute parent, entitled to punish or condone as they see fit.

Juveniles accused of crime, the court said, are entitled to be judged by the same constitutional ground-rules as adults are.

"Neither the Bill of Rights nor the U.S. Constitution is for adults only," Justice Abe Fortas said then.

ON MONDAY, however, the court turned around and assigned a parental role to the states in deciding what juveniles may read or see.

The 6-3 decision, written by Justice William J. Brennan Jr., puts government in the business of deciding what is moral and gives government the right to declare illegal what it finds immoral.

Brennan's pronouncement for the court reaches this end by building on the proposition that "the well-being of its children is of course a subject within the state's constitutional power to regulate."

THIS MEANS that states have a green light from the Supreme Court to suppress sales to minors of whatever books and magazines a majority of the legislators decide are too rich for young blood. The same probably holds true for movies, though the decision in a New York case wasn't explicit.

Since the same Supreme Court decided last term that "girlie" magazines can't be kept from adults, the result is two sets of rules, or what is called variable obscenity. The reach of the First Amendment depends on the age of the reader.

Once again, the subject of censorship fragmented the court, and the frayed nerves showed.

Justice Potter Stewart, who in some recent instances has taken a strong free-speech stand, voted with the majority, saying there was no need for "a doctrinaire, knee-jerk application of the First Amendment."

SOME 35 STATES now have laws or provisions of laws designed to shield juveniles from sexy or violent reading matter or movies. Though the decision dealt only with New York's special law, apparently all the states have to do to pass the court's censorship test is to take a leaf out of New York's law books.

Hope For Dredging Of Creek Vanishes With Fiscal Hangover

The Town Council of Corte Madera has a hangover—a $16,741.84 hangover, to be exact.

It was caused from imbibing somewhat enthusiastically in San Clemente Creek matters. To be precise again, the once-sparkly idea of dredging the creek.

East Corte Madera residents whose property fronts the creek approached the council about forming a dredging project assessment district. The channeling would permit small boats to reach deeper bay waters at low tide as well as at high tide.

Presented with a petition bearing 129 signatures, the council last Oct. 16 passed a resolution of intention to form the district. It authorized $12,000 for preliminary investigation, with the condition that the money be reimbursed from the assessment district funds, if and when one was established.

ON JAN. 30, the dredging binge looked good, indeed. At an informal public hearing on the district formation, a solid majority of the near 125 persons present expressed favor of the project.

A week later, the council learned that most of the alloted money had been spent and a bit more would be needed to conclude the investigation. Estimates that the dredging would cost each district property owner about $1,000 seemed reasonable, and the council authorized the additional expense of finishing the study.

Since then, the bottom dropped out of the creek project, so to speak. Engineering reports to the council April 2 disclosed that the project would cost about double the original estimate—well over $400,000 compared to an earlier estimate of $206,500, more than $2,000 per lot instead of $1,000.

The councilmen swallowed, drew money from the reserve fund to pay the total bill of $16,741.84, and sent the report back to the involved property owners to see if they are still interested.

MAYOR EDWARD W. Colthurst doesn't think they are. "It now looks like the project is going to flop," he said last week. The Town of Corte Madera has taken a bath, he said, a situation "which kind of sticks in my craw."

He suggested that in the future, Corte Madera work out some system whereby the proponents of such assessment districts put up investigation money, to be repaid if and when the district is formed.

Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher agreed. There has been valuable data compiled in the invesigation, he observed optimistically, but he granted that it may never be used now.

New Councilman Byron D. White said he agreed with the mayor, that in the future the question of advance financing must "be played by ear."

The town has one small aspirin up its sleeve, however. If the dredging district goes through, no matter how many years from now, the $16,741.84 comes off the top.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Chiefs Increasing Faster Than Indians

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The odds are good that in your school district, right now while budgets for next school year are being discussed, there is talk about hiring more people to reduce class size.

The teaching profession has claimed for many years that smaller classes are of prime importance in improving instruction. Somehow, though, it seems that staff increases authorized for this purpose have a way of winding up in the district headquarters instead of in the classrooms. This is true nationwide, and especially in California.

In the quarter-century from the 1929-30 school year to that of 1963-64, according to figures prepared by the U. S. Office of Education, the number of teachers approximately doubled, from 843,000 to 1,625,000.

But in that same period, the number of principals rose by nearly two and one-half times, from 31,000 to 73,000. And the number of supervisors almost tripled, from 7,000 to 19,000.

THESE FIGURES did not include assorted other non-teaching school employees. But a 1959 survey by the California Senate Factfinding Committee on Governmental Administration did so.

It showed that from 1922-23 to 1957-58, the ratio of certificated non-teaching to teaching personnel in California public schools increased from one to 24 to one to 7.2. The number of school employees holding teaching certificates but not spending their time in the classroom had increased 14 times while the number of classroom teachers had increased three and one-half times.

There has been no sign of a reversal of this trend in the last 10 years.

Nor does the increase in numbers — great as it is — tell the whole story of the impact on school costs of this mushroom growh of administrators, supervisors, psychologists, etc., many of them with their own secretaries. Most of them are paid above the classroom teachers' scale. Superintendents, of coure, top the list.

NATIONWIDE, according to figures prepared by the National Education Association, the average pay of 14,674 school superintendents in 1966-67 was $12,975, while that of 1,813,201 classroom teachers was $6,905.

In many California districts, the spread is much wider. In a few big districts the superintendent receives more than three times as much as the average teacher, and his assistants more than twice as much. In many smaller districts, the superintendent is paid about two and one-half times the average teacher pay.

There is only very loose relationship between the size of the district and the spread between teacher and superintendent salary.

There is even less relationship between the size of district and the number of "head office" personnel, as a study of districts in Marin County last year shows. Here are a few examples from it:

Dixie District, with nine elementary schools, had 37 people in the district office, while Mill Valley, with eight schools, had only 26, and San Anselmo, with seven, had only 20.

It took 29 people to operate the district office of four-school Sausalito School District, but only 13 for Larkspur, with four slightly bigger schools.

WHAT DO THE teachers think of all this supervision?

In 1965, the California Senate Factfinding Committee on Governmental Administration circulated a questionnaire to 20,000 classroom teachers, and 15,020 of them responded. Included was a series of questions about supervisors and administrators.

Three-to-one, the teachers replied they did not need supervisors to aid their teaching.

Asked who had helped them more to become better teachers, superiors or fellow teachers, 57 per cent said fellow teachers; only 10 per cent said superiors.

Many objected to needless staff meetings and needless reports, claiming these hampered them in doing their jobs. The plea repeated so often that the committee used it as a title for its report was, "Let us teach!"

Dam Reconstruction Contract To Be Let

Directors of the Marin Municipal Water District will award a contract Monday for the reconstruction of Phoenix Dam.

Bids were opened at the board's April 10 meeting and turned over to the engineering department for recommendations.

School Chiefs Ask $1.7 Billion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Emergency legislation to inject $1.7 billion into the state's 25 largest school systems was called for yesterday by five big city school chiefs.

The money is urgently needed to head off an education crisis in urban centers, warned the group in a news conference at the Hilton Hotel.

School superintendents signaling for massive help were Stuart S. Phillips of Oakland, Robert E. Jenkins of San Francisco, Jack P. Crowther of Los Angeles, Odie Wright of Long Beach and Ralph Dailard of San Diego.

The educators called for another $400 per child from the state, the first $100 starting in 1968-1969.

New Board Head

Herbert E. Davis has been elected chairman of the Almonte Sanitary District board for 1968. Robert C. Odmark was named secretary.

The board Monday also appointed Odmark and John J. Crncich as a budget committee to start work on the 1968-69 budget.
